Keep the boys leave 'round

Shown above is the proposed Cadet Activities Center building. A campaign to raise $400,000 for its construction has been undertaken by the Academy's Parents' Association. Past and Present Parents, as well as Alumni, have been asked to support the program.

Corps Hears Plans For New Building

On Thursday, December 19, at 1530, the Corps of Cadets was addressed briefly by the Headmaster on the subject of the proposed Student Activities Center. Most of the Cadets had probably heard of the idea for some time, but this was the first official presentation of it to them.

As is now known to almost everyone, the initiative first came from the parents of the Cadets, and it developed both at the Parents' Day meeting held last May and during October of the present school year. The total cost, estimated at $400,000, is to be realized from a drive in which parents as well as many "Friends of Farragut" will participate. $100,000 have already been pledged in services and anticipated savings through a number of Parents and Alumni.

The Headmaster continued his talk with colored slides which gave all who attended a vivid idea of the building to be located equidistant between Farragut and DuPont Halls. The Parents' Lounge and Snack Bar will have a beautiful view overlooking the football field and the river toward the Bay. The ground floor plans include hobby rooms, bowling alleys, ping-pong and pool rooms. The first floor plans comprise the Library, Parents' Lounge, Snack Bar, Canteen and Band Room. Club rooms occupy the second floor primarily.

Cadets Spell Out New "Center" Meaning

After announcement of the proposed Cadet Activities Center, an informal survey was made among members of the Corps to determine their reaction. Listed here are a few of the statements that were made to the inquiring Capstan reporter's question: "What will the new building mean to you?"

- Allison: A better balance of social life and recreation
- Krantz: A central music department
- Jordan: It will advance Cadets in fields other than Academics
- Morrissey: Will provide better facilities for the various Clubs of the Academy
- Arango: Raise the morale of the corps
- LeMore: Pre-occupy the idle hours.
- Cody: A great help to various activities for many years to come
- Sullivan: Add prestige to the School
- Miraldi: It will give everyone a chance to pursue their own individual hobbies
- Andrews: It will provide a place in which I can remember as my Alma Mater

Annual Christmas Concert Presented

On Thursday, December 19th, the Corps of Cadets attended the Annual Christmas Concert, presented by the Music Department and headed by Mr. Dayton O. Newton. The program was held in Robison Hall.

The Academy Band first performed the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah. Toy Town featured Cadet Maiorano as Narrator, and Bagpiper Cadet Johnston. Then followed Syncopated Clock and Toboggan Slide featuring the trombone section. At this point Capt. Raven O. Dodge pronounced a few words of Christmas Greetings.

The next part included renditions by the Junior School Choir: O Holy Night, Angels We Have Heard On High, and a cornet duet by Cadets Dwyer and Norman. Cadet Freddy Bohorquez delighted all with his part sung in Spanish.

Next appeared the Dance Band, which presented the following numbers. Let It Snow, White Christmas, with Cadet Russo as soloist, Dixieland Christmas, especially arranged by Mr. Newton, and Sleigh Ride, thus topping off an especially popular part of the program.

The Cadet Glee Club performed ably by singing Eternal Father, Jimmy Brown Song with Cadet Corbett doing a solo at intervals, Bears' Head Carol and a Negro Spiritual, Ride The Chariot.

First Dramatic Play Is Presented January 18th

On January 18, the Dramatics Club presented its first play of the season in Robison Hall.

Taking part in the presentation were Cadets Stephen Beyer as Clara, Russ Corbett as Mrs. Fisher, Rog Davis as Amy, Frank Maiorano as Aubrey Piper, Pete Stevenson as Mr. Rogers, Ira Meiselman as Gill, Joel Frankfurt as Frank Heylon, Bill Morvay as Joe, and Ike Eisenberg as Mr. Fisher.

The play takes place in a house in the middle 1920's. Aubrey Piper is the main character, who gets assistance from Amy and Mrs. Fisher. The theme of the play is Aubrey, who is a loudmouth and a braggart. He finds himself and near the end of the play, reforms. It took the death of Mr. Fisher and many insults from Mrs. Fisher to bring him to his senses.

from the Gospel according to St. Luke, with accompaniment from Cadet Tom Schroeder on the French horn. Especially effective at this point was the lighting of the creche in the darkened hall.

The function closed with the Band and Glee Club joining in performing Adeste Fideles. The Junior School, garbed in robes and bearing candles, marched down the center aisle to the stage where they formed a silhouette affording background to the Band and Glee Club.

The New Building

That the Parent's Association would approve a proposal to raise funds for the construction of a Cadet Activities Center building, is perhaps one of the most commendable actions ever taken in behalf of the Corps.

That the Alumni Association would also rally to the proposed idea through official endorsement of the project last November, is clear enough proof of the belief its members have in the urgent need for such a structure.

Now that the need has been established and the plans drawn for the building itself, there remains the matter of meeting the $400,000 cost that is necessary to actually erect it. The campaign to do this was launched by the Parents' organization around the middle of December. At the same time the Alumni Association kicked off with its 11th annual Alumni Fund which, in addition to meeting the operating expenses of the graduate group, would also support the building fund.

Returns are being received daily, and while it is still a little too early to indicate the amount of support the program will receive, there have been encouraging signs to lead those concerned with the project to renew their determination to see the idea through. Alumni gifts received to date have been double the amount received during the same period of last year's fund.

More than ever before in the Country's history, private education at the secondary and higher levels, is in dire need of all the support it can obtain to meet the challenging factors in today's economy.

The long and distinguished record that private education has made for itself since the founding of the United States, is clear-cut and easy to read. Its contributions, its freedom from State controls, and in particular the individuality of its many, many graduate products, spell out the need for its continuation.

That schools like Farragut are, in addition to providing adequate preparation for college, training young men in the meaning of leadership, is of paramount importance. The need for leaders in our Nation today is a prime requisite.

The provision of the Cadet Activities Center is but another step in Farragut's program of educating the "whole" man. Each member of the Farragut Family can do much to meet this challenge during the 25th Anniversary Year.

Words For Naught?

One of the most serious problems confronting a preparatory school senior these days is gaining entrance to college. The problem is difficult of solution because it may be too late to do much about it. What is meant by this? It means simply that if one can truthfully say that he began his entrance to college in his freshman year, a certain degree of concern is thereby removed by the time the senior year comes around.

It is hard for a freshman to take advice from a senior. He imagines that the senior is lording it over him. No one wants to be dictated to and somehow the prospect of being admitted to college seems so far away during the freshman year. Apparently, it is felt that things will merely adjust themselves.

Youth finds it difficult to learn that experience is the best teacher. It is hard for anyone, except those of the greatest will-power and character, to accept advice, especially from one only a few years older. For that matter, only a few wish to accept it even from much older persons.

But they should do so before it is too late.

General view of the Christmas Formal taken in Robison Hall on December 13th. The Dance had one of the largest attendances in recent years.

"Characters" Portrayed By British Diplomat

On Friday evening, January 17, the Corps of Cadets heard a special program by Mr. Hedly Hepworth, a British dramatist. Mr. Hepworth was born and educated in Britain, and his characterizations have been so successful in the United States that he has appeared in almost every state on his annual tours in America. During World War II he served in the British Secret Police Service, without his identity ever being detected.

Mr. Hepworth dramatized for his audience; Dr. Jekyll, Mr. Hyde, Rip Van Winkle, Pip, and Scrooge. The person he dramatized at the very end of the program was the one that was liked most. This character was a college student of today trying to present a speech to a university group. All of this gave the Corps a better understanding of these people, fictional and otherwise. The entertainment was one of the best of its kind that has been witnessed here at the Academy.

First Fall Formal Has Christmas Theme

The annual Christmas Formal was held on the thirteenth of December, under the sponsorship of the Cotillion Club. This dance marks the high point of the Fall social calendar. It was the first and only autumn formal, and definitely the most ornate of the dances so far.

The cadets and their dates danced to the lively music of Pete Galatro and his orchestra, in a setting decorated in Christmas style. In the center of the dance floor there was a large beautifully decorated Christmas tree, and from the rafters hung red and green strips of crepe paper making a very beautiful and enjoyable setting. Behind the orchestra was a large face of Santa Claus on a blue background.

These beautiful decorations and the music of the Galatro orchestra spelled an evening of fun and happiness for all in attendance.

Many Volumes Added To Growing Library

The Library opened this fall with many new books added to its collection. Several were donated by the Alumni, The Alumni Association or were purchased through the Library Fund. Mr. Roger S. Christy, Class of 1938, donated many volumes on the American Indians, all of which have been added to the special Alumni Shelf. He is also donating one book a month to the Library. Some of the titles are: Nez Perces by Haines, Hear Me, My Chiefs by L. V. Mc Whorter and Custer's Luck by Steward. His interesting volumes are greatly appreciated by students concerned with Indians in U. S. History.

In addition the Alumni Association donated a number of books on Science, a few of which are: Model Railroad by H. Zerley and 20,000 Fathoms Down by Cdr. G. Honot and Pierce William.

All of the Academy's Departments have had an opportunity to request certain books to be purchased. The Language Department, under LCDR. David Elms, asked mostly for books on travel. The books edited by Ogrizek cover the following nations: France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Great Britain and the United States.

The History Department, under Mr. E. Teidemann, received the Red Fort, The Ford Foundation and Famous American Statesmen.

The music Department under Mr. D. Newton had several books added, notably: The Jazz Encyclopedia, Story of Five American Composers and A History of Musical Thought.

LCDR. K. Sheesley, English Department Head, ordered many books for the already large collection available to English Students. The Short Reign of Pippin IV, A Satire for Teenagers, The Singing Boons and Tales to Be Told In the Dark are a few of the titles.

The Library is open every weekday from 0745 to 1630.

New Building Names Proposed At Program

On January 16, Mr. J. Drummond's Public Speaking class gave a presentation of their accomplishments during the first semester to the Corps. The subject was naming the new building.

The speakers suggested names of persons that belonged to the Army, Navy, or early political parties in United States history.

Cadet E. Fuller suggested George Washington Hall as a title because he was the "Father of Our Country" and founder of our military services. Cadet F. Maiorano stressed the point that the title be taken from any branch of the service, not only the Navy. He himself suggested General Douglas MacArthur, because of his splendid record as a General. The most unusual was the one put before the Corps by Cadet Schroder, T., using the frigate, U.S.S. Constitution as an example to name the building after.

Cadet R. Beatty spoke on Dallgren, who invented the soda bottle cannon and improved the ordnance of his gunnery crews. He also developed the rifled cannon and exploding shells.

Cadet W. Haberman suggested the name of Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, he being the only Admiral to do so much for America without killing one person, or taking land away forcibly from another country.

Master of Ceremonies for the program was Cadet Robert Sgromolo. Also making speeches were Cadets Humphries, Lace, Moser, Stevenson, and Frankfurt.

Court veterans Dave Robinson, Harry Humphries, Joe Lucarelli and Larry Ewert smile at comments of Coach Stan Slaby prior to opening of current season.

Grapplers Post 2-1 Record To Date

On December 17, the Farragut matmen went down in defeat to a strong and well trained Peddie squad with a score of 44-3. Even though the loss was great, it improved the style and confidence of the new boys just starting wrestling. As for the old wrestlers, it was a bad day, and nothing seemed to go in their favor. Last year's State Champion in the 120 lb. class, Dave Cook, was defeated badly 6-2; Julie Arango, Jim Bower, and Mitch Fried were also defeated.

Coach David Towers, even after this loss, said that the team looked in shape and had good possibilities for their next match with Bordentown. John Scott was the only victor, winning by a score of 3-2.

The boys on the wrestling team along with Coach Towers want to wish John Slocum the best of luck in his recovery from the serious accident he encountered during a recent practice.

On January 11, the matmen took on Bordentown Military Institute and completely swamped them 34-15, losing only three of the scheduled eleven bouts.

The wrestling team was up and ready for this match, working hard and learning much since their first loss. By this showing it looks as though the grapplers will have an exceptional season.

Outstanding in this match were Tony Smith and Jim Bower, who pinned their men in less than a minute. Leo Bohorquez pinned his man in 1:28, along with Howell Scobey. Other wins were Dave Cook 5-2, Chuck Seal 8-0, and Julie Arango 8-2.

On January 15, the Grapplers took hold of their second victory of the season by beating Hun School 33-17 in a one-sided battle. This match consisted of pin after pin, the first one coming in 54 seconds of the first period by Dave Cook. Chuck Seal continued the onslaught by pinning his man in 58 seconds of the first period of his bout. Jim Bower pinned his man in 50 seconds of the first period, also. Howell Scobey and Mitch Fried also pinned their men in the heavier divisions. Other wins were Pete Vollmer, Tony Smith and a tie by Leo Bohorquez.

Sports Twirl

by Paul Twing

As we look about the campus, we see that winter sports are well under way. The prospects for many victories seem good.

In basketball 4 of last year's five have returned. Larry Ewert and Joe Lucarelli give points to the team with their superb shooting from the back court. Dave Robinson and Harry Humphries also add much to the team's wins under the boards. Also on the team this year we have eleven with great potential skill: Onil Roy, John Chesser, Hank Engelhardt, Wardy Briggs, Jim Vatter, Todd Hollenbach, Ronald Frazer, and Mike Pero. Ronald Frazer, the youngest member of the team, has shown great drive and quality in shooting and speed.

As we go down stairs, we find the wrestling and rifle teams. Great promise and drive are found in both. Mitch Fried has shown much progress recently. Also starting this year are many of last year's matmen; Jim Bower, Julian Arango, John Scott, Howell Scobey, and Dave Cook. The new comers who have shown considerable promise include Charles Seal, Dave Reimers, Pete Vollmer, Alan Cullman, Leo Bohorquez, Ted Goodman, and Al Hackett. Charles Seal has shown hard work and great enthusiasm with their victories gained so far this season.

The rifle team under the leadership of the two co-captains, John LeMore and George Meyer, are doing a good job with the able coaching of Lt. Harry Norris.

Monogram Club Elects Onil Roy President

The 57-58 Monogram Club was started in November of this year. The first meeting was opened with the election of officers. Onil Roy was elected President; Frank Lucarelli, Vice President; Richard Payne, Secretary; and Todd Hollenbach, Treasurer.

The new jackets for this year's members were ordered, along with some jackets for

Quintet Tops B.M.I., Drops Two Others

The Farragut basketball team opened its 57-58 season on December 13 against Neptune High School at Neptune. The Slabymen put up a good fight and the game was nip and tuck all the way. However inconsistent rebounding put the Middle Quintet at a disadvantage, and when the final buzzer sounded, the Farragut five were on the short end, 46-42.

After Christmas leave the team traveled to Bordentown on January 11 to tangle with the Soldiers. From the game's beginning the Middle Quintet took control and easily piled up the points which enabled them to pull ahead. When the game ended it saw Farragut a 60-49 victor. Playing an outstanding game for Farragut was Dave Robinson, who scored 19 points for the team.

The Middle court played host to Lawrenceville on January 15. This, also, was a tight contest from the opening tap. In the first quarter the Slabymen took the lead, but Lawrenceville came back to forge ahead by 5 points as the second period ended. In the second half the nip and tuck battle continued and in the period with a few seconds remaining, the score stood 39-37 in favor of Lawrenceville. Larry Ewert tied the game with two foul shots at 39 all, which ended the regulation game. In the second overtime period with a few seconds remaining, Frosty Williams of Lawrenceville, sank two free throws to give the visitors the game at 41-43.

The contest was one of the wildest events staged in Robison Hall. Two overtime periods provided the audience with an extremely exciting event.

Xavier Still Proves A Jinx To Rodmen

As another winter descends upon Farragut, the members of the rifle team are busily occupied. With a large number of last year's team returning and a sprinkling of new and promising shooters, another successful season is in store for the AFA triggermen.

To begin, George Meyer, improving all of the time, distinguished himself by posting an all-time record score of 195 out of a possible 200 in a difficult four-position course of fire. By doing this, he attained the highest rifle award that Admiral Farragut Academy has to offer: the Academy's "Master" rating. This serves as a great incentive for some of the team's embryo shooters.

New on this year's team, and already making a name for themselves, are: Frank Horgan, Bob Sgromolo, Ron Krantz, Steve Deutel, and Bud Picard. Returning from last year's squad are: George Meyer, John LeMore, Don Mozer, and William Platt.

The team has already fired three matches. The first match, against Xavier, was fired on the range in Robison Hall. Unfortunately, the "Middies" just couldn't overcome their powerful visitors and they were defeated 890 - 840. The second match at Bordentown was an unfortunate defeat. With Bordentown rallying their forces for a strong attack, the AFA triggermen were defeated by a slight margin, 878 - 870. The third match against Bordentown marked the first taste of blood. The Middle team led by George Meyer posted an 888 - 875 victory. High scorer in the match was George Meyer with a sizzling 186, closely followed by John LeMore with a 180, Don Mozer with a 178, Ron Krantz with a 175, and Steve Deutel with a 170.

Shown with Rear Admiral Daniel V. Gallery, USN, Commandant of the Tenth Naval District, are Cadets Yves Saldana, left, of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and James D. Bowers, Jr., of Tuckerton, N. J., both second classmen. Saldana is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Saldana, of Hato Rey, Puerto Rico, and Bower, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Bower of Tuckerton. They both spent the Christmas holidays at Saldana's home in San Juan, and paid a visit to Admiral Gallery at his headquarters at the U. S. Naval Station, San Juan, during their stay there.

Accordion Trio Heard After Corps Sees Film

On Saturday, December 14, after a film distributed by the Champion Paper Company was shown, the Corps was entertained by an accordion group known as the LaVaux Trio. Their leader, Mr. J. LaVaux, is known as the "poet of the accordion."

The trio opened its program with a selection of favorite numbers, including Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and Friml's "Flight of the Bumble Bee."

While the life of Franz Schubert was being told, Dennis Sudney, another member furnished music on the piano with one of the composer's well known pieces.

The trio also played "Anchors Aweigh" and some of the more popular tunes. Included among these were "Star Dust" and "Smoke gets in your Eyes."

Band, Glee Club Give Local Performances

The Concert Band and Glee Club traveled to Toms River High School gymnasium to sing and play in the annual "Community Sing" program on Sunday, December 15.

The Band featured a stirring arrangement of Adeste Fideles, and furnished all of the music for the carols which were sung by the audience and participating vocal groups. The Glee Club sang an old English carol, entitled "The Boar's Head" and a Negro spiritual called, "Ride The Chariot."

A large number of church and school groups also participated in the program.

On Monday, December 16, the Band and Glee Club also presented a special concert at the Pine Beach Chapel Evangelical-Congregational church. Refreshments were served to the Cadets after the program.

Col. Acker Retired From Active Service

Col. Lewis Acker, U. S. A., is a distinguished member of the faculty of Admiral Farragut Academy. He has been in the Army since 1914, and has served in both World Wars and on every continent, with the exception of Antarctica. In 1950 after 34 years of active service, he was placed on the honorary reserve, and now, after several years of waiting, his retirement has come through. He was officially released from the Army on December 31, 1957.

In his 44 years in the Army, Col. Acker saw many changes take place. He saw horses and wagons give way to trucks. He saw the first machine guns and hand grenades in action.

He has served under such famous superiors as Generals Eisenhower, Mac Arthur, and Marshall. He has been decorated by both the U. S. and several foreign governments. He was wounded and spent a year in Army Hospitals. He was blinded for 6 weeks, due to mustard gas at the end of the First World War. From all these facts one can see that he has had a long and useful span in the Army.

Col. Acker is married, has a son in the Air Force and five small children. He has taught mathematics at Farragut for two years. He says that he is glad to be out of the service, but states he owes a lot to it.

34 Farragut Cadets Earn Seamanship Ratings

A total of 34 cadets of the Admiral Farragut Academy earned seamanship ratings during the first quarter of the current academic year, according to an announcement by Captain Paul C. Crosley, USN, ret., Director of Naval Science.

Cadet Seaman Apprentice rates were earned by: D. Borgen, J. Brown, E. DeTone,

SENIOR CELEBS

Robert Sgromolo

Bob was born on July 27th, 1939 in Perth Amboy, New Jersey. He attended St. Mary's Parochial School before he entered as a sophomore in 1955. After his first year as a plebe, Bob became First Company dockmaster, helping that company to win the colors. By the end of his second year, he had attained a Yeoman Second-class rate in Naval Science. He is now a second-class petty officer. He hopes to enter Annapolis and make the navy his career. He is also active in the Naval Reserve, winning an award for being one of the best recruiters.

Bob's many activities include the Varsity rifle team, Inter-company sports, and he was also captain of the Junior Varsity Basketball squad last year. He is in the Dramatics and Italian Clubs and on the Hop Committee, Trident Staff and Capstan Staff.

Frank Maiorano

Frank was born in New York City on August 22, 1939. He attended Rhodes, among other schools, before coming here in 1955 as a plebe. He was made a third-class petty officer the next year, and given the honor of carrying the guidon for the Third Co. As a senior, he now holds the rank of ensign.

After graduation, he hopes to enter the N. Y. Maritime Academy. He plans to become an electrical engineer. Among Frank's many activities are Chapel Club, Hop Committee, Cotillion Club, Dramatics Club, and Varsity Baseball. He has been president of the Italian Club since its inception last year. Frank's Favorites are, Italian Food, Girls, and Parties.

old boys. Also at this meeting the announcement was made that the Monogram Club dues would be five dollars. This sum would be used for the annual dinner at the end of the year.

Part of the club, the football team, went to Coach Slaby's home for the annual football dinner on December 6. After an excellent meal they watched television.

The Club was very proud of Joe Lucarelli, Fred Lafferty, and Nick Morris all of whom made the All State Prep School football team.
