

Ex-Lakehurst C. O. Joins Academy Staff

Captain Frederic N. Klein, Jr., USN, Ret., joined the Academy's staff as Assistant Head of the Dept. of Naval Instruction and Rifle Coach on Feb. 1.

Captain Klein, who was commanding officer of the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst during 1961-62, first enlisted in the Navy in June of 1931, and was commissioned an ensign in 1935. He studied at George Washington U. in Washington, D. C., which he attended as a naval officer student, and at Pensacola Naval Flight School, and the Air War College, which is part of the Air University at Montgomery, Ala.

Captain Klein is qualified to fly both heavier-than-air and lighter-than-air craft. He has a very impressive Navy record, having served on the USS RELIEF, the USS OKLAHOMA, the USS NEW MEXICO, and as Executive Officer of the USS ONSLOW. He also commanded two anti-submarine squadrons during World War II, and Fleet Airship Wing—One, Atlantic Fleet.

An interesting fact to note is that Captain Klein commanded, in succession, the northernmost and southernmost lighter-than-air stations in the world at Santa Cruz, Brazil, and Tillamook, Oregon, respectively.

Captain Klein is living in Toms River with his wife Margaret and their two children, Ricky and Maggie, 12 and 6 years old, respectively.

Parents' Association To Raffle Cadillac

James C. Pendleton, president of the Farragut Parents' Association, has announced that the Association will hold a raffle that will give away a 1965 Cadillac worth $5,700 for a prize. The drawing will be held on Friday, June 4th the night the Association will be holding its first annual June Ball.

The purpose of the raffle is to help the Association raise funds to meet the five objectives contained in its 1964-65 program. This event, along with the Christmas Dance and the proposed June 4th dance, should play an important part in reaching the $11,500 goal that must be attained in order to make a success of the Parents' program this year.

Facsimile shares will be sent to all parents with the hope that they will not only take one or more themselves, but will do everything possible to sell them to their friends and relatives. Shares are $5.00 each and only 2000 shares will be sold. Once the facsimile shares are returned, original shares will be sent to the purchasers and their stubs deposited in the container from which the lucky shareholder's name will be drawn.

The Cadillac to be given away is a four-door, hardtop sedan, Calais model, all white on the outside, with black and white interior. It is fully equipped.

The 1964-65 list of objectives adopted by the Association at its meeting last fall include: (1) the purchase of three stations (booths) for the Foreign Languages laboratory in Clark Hall; (2) the construction of an outdoor basketball-volleyball area behind Robison Hall, fully lined and equipped, and covered with a green acrylic plastic surface; (3) the upgrading and complete improvement of the Upper Athletic area behind the former Music Building; (4) the purchase of a batting cage; (5) the purchase of an electric scoreboard; and (6) $509 to the Headmaster's Discretionary Fund, to be used exclusively for the direct benefit of the Cadet Corps.

The Ways and Means Committee is conducting the raffle, and its members include the Hon. A. M. Livoti (chairman), T. J. Walsh, F. P. Adamo, Sr., W. J. Shelly, and G. J. Wilson, Sr. LCDR W. Masciangelo, Executive Secretary of the Association, will handle the mechanics of the program from the Academy's Public Relations Office, Farragut Hall.

$12,500 Goal Set For Alumni Campaign

Alumni Association president Walter B. Hutchinson has announced the start of the 18th annual Alumni Fund drive to raise $12,500 to meet 10 objectives that are included in the organization's program for the current year.

The objectives include six that have been a part of the Association's program for a number of years, but four new goals have been added to round out what appears to be the broadest base for appeal presented to the Alumni members in years.

In addition to the Alumni Office, Trident Support, Cadet Awards, the Headmaster's Discretionary Fund, the Alumni Student Aid Fund, and the Alumni Library Shelf, new objectives include the purchase of a piece of equipment for the Physics Laboratory, the construction of a larger, and enclosed Press Box, a complete sound system for the Press Box, and the establishment of the Faculty Educational Assistance Fund.

The Association's Executive Board, meeting on Dec. 6, adopted the program and voiced optimism in regard to reaching the $12,500 goal. Most of the objectives were adopted because of a survey made among contributors to the 16th Fund, who indicated interest in these areas.

Of particular interest by Board members is the Faculty Educational Assistance Fund. The basic idea behind this program is to do everything possible to help the Academy attract and hold good teachers. While all of the provisions of the Fund have not yet been ironed out by the Committee responsible for its adoption, the Fund will offer financial assistance to members of the Academy Staff who take summer work in their related fields to better themselves. Aid will be granted on the basis of funds available, teachers will have to meet certain requirements regarding length of service at the Academy, and they must, if aid is given, agree to continue teaching at Farragut for a minimum of two years.

Mr. Hutchinson compared the new fund to the Alumni Student Aid Fund that was established in 1951 to give financial assistance to young men with ability, but who lack financial means to attend the Academy. This fund, he said, was started with $100 and now is worth $15,000. He stated that the new faculty aid program will do for the

School's Evaluation Committee Named

"The self-evaluation on behalf of the Administration is about three-quarters completed," reported Captain Raven O. Dodge, in reference to the preparation for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools' evaluation of Farragut on March 17, 18, and 19. Only two major areas remain to be accomplished. They are an evaluation of the History Department, and an evaluation of the overall course of study. These self-evaluations have been accomplished by weekly meetings of the faculty on Monday afternoons since the beginning of October.

The names of the members of the twelve man committee that will actually do the evaluating have been released and it is interesting to note that the committee consists of four headmasters. The chairman is Mr. Ralph E. Kreps, who is the principal of the Temple University High School in Phila. The assistant chairman is Mr. Roland Burbank, who is the headmaster of the Manlius School in Manlius, N. Y. The other members of the committee are Donald C. Fitzpatrick, an English teacher of the Academy of the New Church, William C. Fowle, headmaster of Mercersburg Academy, Carson E. R. Holman, an English teacher of Carson Long Institute, Harvey H. MacArthur, headmaster of the Staten Island Academy, Captain Lauren McCreedy, a mathematics and science instructor at the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, Dr. Howard F. McGinn, professor of library science at Villanova University, William Meister, a physical education teacher, from St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Clarence Seltzer, a science teacher from Weequahic High School, John W. Strahan, a language instructor from Newark Academy, and Lloyd B. Tuttle, the music instructor of the Hill School.

So far no problems have arisen. Captain Dodge reported that, "I don't anticipate any difficulties at all. We are in pretty good shape." The evaluation did point up one specific need, which Captain Dodge expressed as, "A good, modern classroom building, which would consolidate all of the science laboratories, and include an adequate library and study hall. Such a building would eliminate much of the running around the campus by cadets." Plans for constructing such a building are presently not in the immediate future, because such an undertaking would involve an expenditure of one-half to three-quarters of a million dollars.

Dramatic, Bold Look

The 1965 Trident will feature a dramatic and bold look in many of its sections this year, according to LCDR W. Masciangelo, Advisor. "While there won't be more pictures than in the past, they will be better and more interesting," he said.

Open Mind Seminar Has Active Schedule

The Seminar of the Open Mind, or as it is better known, the Senior Seminar, was organized after the Corps returned from the Christmas holidays.

The purpose of the Seminar is to open for discussion topics not normally available at the secondary level. The Seminar is comprised of the twelve seniors who have displayed the most intellectual ability and curiosity during the fall term.

The members of this year's Seminar are Cadets A. Aldi, J. Alvarado, J. Bainton, F. Mandia, L. Moore, R. Miklewright, D. Murphy, R. Eadie, J. Bunnell, E. Siegeltuch, T. Travis, and D. Winer.

The four basic areas with which the Seminar will deal are sociology, anthropology, psychology, and philosophy. The members maintain a rather strenuous reading list in order to be well versed in these areas.

The Seminar was originated by Mr. John F. Noble of the English Dept. Mr. Noble says that, "I feel it is very advantageous for a serious student to have some knowledge of the fields we deal with in the Seminar before he encounters them in college."

The readings of the members are supplemented by guest speakers, all of whom are distinguished in their own particular field and aid greatly to the overall effect of the Seminar.

The Seminar meets once a week at seven o'clock and it is alleged that it has been known to last past ten. Upon the conclusion of the weekly meeting, refreshments of coffee and doughnuts are served.

Cadets Offered New Mathematics Courses

This semester there are three new math courses being made available to the Corps. These courses are Solid Geometry, Matrix Theory, and Probability, all of which are taught by Mr. Shafa, Head of the Department of Mathematics.

In Mr. Shafa's words no course is easier than the other. They all require a considerable amount of work.

Solid Geometry should have more appeal for the student who is interested in engineering, or some field of construction. This course will give him a well needed background in geometries, and perhaps a course he will not be able to take in college. This will also aid the student in the process of "thinking by steps" by the many proofs which he will be working with.

Probability, naturally appeals to everyone. Mr. Shafa demonstrated how you can find out your chances in gambling, or how to create card tricks. Of course it is not the purpose of the course to find the odds of the daily double at Freehold. It will not determine your fate. The liberal art students should be the most interested in this course.

Matrix Theory is the last course given. It involves the relationships of numbers to other numbers. As Mr. Shafa explains, one does not always study math for its applications, but one can study it for the satisfaction of working with a new form of math. If you find an application for it, that's even better.

These courses were made available at the start of the second semester.

NEW FLAG—Captain P. C. Crosley, USN, Ret., Head of the Dept. of Naval Instruction, and Cadets Donald Tummons, Donald McClure, and Daniel Winer inspect Navy flag presented to the Academy by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. The flag is housed in the Alumni Memorial Lobby of Shepard Hall.

17th Alumni Fund Sets New Record With $9498 Total From 438 Donors

The 17th annual Alumni Fund has ended, and with its ending it compiled one of the best performance records since this method of raising funds for the Association began in 1947.

This past year's effort produced a total of $9498 from 438 contributors, for an average gift of $21.22. This compares favorably with $8588 from 404 donors and an average of $21.25 that was produced during the previous year.

Of unusual significance this year is the part that Past Parents played in this program, for this particular group of friends contributed $1491 to help the Association reach its new high for annual fund raising.

Newly-elected president Walter B. Hutchinson '35 (he was Class Trustee at the time) produced an unusually high percentage of participation for his Class by posting a record 88.09%. This tops a previous high record of 64%, which was established some years ago by the Class of 1947 under John Wisotzkey's Class Trustee term of office.

The classes that were tops in various categories during the 17th Fund were: LARGEST AMOUNT GIVEN—1939, 1945, 1937, 1935, and 1942. HIGHEST AVERAGE GIFT—1939, 1942, 1945, 1937, and 1941. LARGEST NUMBER OF DONORS—1935, 1944, 1949, 1946, and 1947. HIGHEST PERCENTAGE OF PARTICIPATION—1935, 1937, 1960, 1946, and 1949.

Having the highest percentage of participation this year meant that the Theobald Alumni Fund Trophy was awarded to the Class of 1935. Other classes that won this top honor during past Fund campaigns were: 6th—1952, 7th—1953, 8th—1953, 9th—1954, 10th—1952, 11th—1938, 12th—1936, 13th—1953, 14th—1959, 15th—1954, 16th—1938 and 1941 finished in a tie.

This past year's Alumni Fund was under the chairmanship of George Theobald '39, who would like to express his thanks and appreciation for all those members who supported the 17th program and helped to produce one of the largest amounts raised to date. "I feel that this is only the beginning of greater things for the Association and for Farragut," Mr. Theobald stated

Late 17th Fund Donors Listed For Record

Late donors whose names did not appear in the published report of the 17th Alumni Fund that was mailed to all contributors are: Thomas F. Kiernan '40, Douglas Cavileer '43, Paul Ardleigh '57, and Carl Ardleigh '63.

Mr. J. D. Ardleigh, Mrs. M. Falgoust, Dr. J. I. Schnitman, Mr. A. F. Fisher, Mr. V. Saitta, Mr. J. Husovsky, Mr. G. Hoffmire, and the Warner Brothers Foundation.

upon terminating his term as chairman. "I am looking forward to an even bigger year during the 18th Fund, and with the support of a growing number of Alumni who are recognizing all of the good that we, the Association, can accomplish, I am quite certain that we'll top all previous goals."

How the Funds Were Used

Alumni Secretary W. Masciangelo reports that the Executive Board accomplished the following with the money that was raised during the past year:

(1) $4500 was used to maintain and operate the Alumni Office; (2) $3000 was transferred to the Alumni Student Aid Fund to bring the total of that particular Fund to almost $15,000; (3) $120 was spent for the Alumni Library Shelf; (4) $230 was spent to purchase a new set of encyclopedia for the Library; (5) $1395 was used to buy three new stations (booths) for the Foreign Languages Laboratory in Clark Hall; (6) $120 was appropriated to buy a mathematics-science typewriter for use by the faculty members of those two departments in their work; (7) a set of flags—the national colors and an Academy flag—was ordered and presented at Homecoming, said flags are now displayed in the Alumni Memorial Lobby in Shepard Hall and cost about $250; (8) The new Faculty Lounge in Faragut Hall now contains the beginning of a library of professional books for members of the Staff to use. The Executive Board appropriated $200 for

Two Guest Speakers Attend Sr. Seminar

The Seminar of the Open Mind has been host to two guest speakers since its organization this year.

The first guest was Mr. Cameron Fisher, a member of the History Department, who spoke on eastern religions in conjunction with the members of the Seminar reading Siddhartha, by Hermann Hesse. Mr. Fisher spoke on the night of January 20. Mr. Fisher spent three years in the East and in addition has studied all religions in detail while attending school, and he is an ordained Methodist minister. During the refreshment break the talk turned to social justice and continued more or less along this vein for the rest of the evening. All the members greatly enjoyed Mr. Fisher and are indebted to him for attending.

The second speaker who spoke on January 31, was Mrs. Margo Walther. Mrs. Walther spoke on college preparation and counselling. She is a college counsellor, and her suggestions were very well received. The discussion also touched on the concept of conformity on the college campus and especially with regard to applying to college. The Seminar found Mrs. Walther a scintillating and marvelous person, and it is greatly indebted to Mr. Noble for arranging for the Seminar to meet her.

First Classmen Take Academic Honors

Two members of the First Class, Cadets Thomas Travis and John Bunnell, finished first and second during the month of January to take highest academic honors for that period. Travis won the Gold Riband with Gold Star award, while Bunnell was awarded the Silver Riband with Silver Star for his efforts. Travis had an average of 97%, and Bunnell posted a record of 95.8%.

Cadets passing all subjects with an average of 80% or more, entitling them to the Silver Academic Riband with Silver Star, were:

Music Department Had Busy Schedule For Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club

Dept. Head Attended W. German Seminar

LCDR David A. Elms, chairman of the foreign language department, spent most of last summer in Germany. For a month, he participated in a Seminar conducted by Seton Hall and Northern Illinois Universities for American teachers and advanced students of German. This took place at the Paul Schneider Jusendhaus in Lankwitz, West Berlin, only twenty minutes walk from the hateful barbed wire at Marienfelde.

The Seminar consisted of daily classes in Twentieth Century German literature and culture. These were supplemented by many lectures on democracy, communism, art, drama, etc. given by experts in each field. All discussions were conducted in German. There were also visits to museums, churches, theaters, movies, and operas. Five times, Mr. Elms visited East Berlin. He found conditions there, in general, much improved since his trip in 1960.

After the Seminar, he visited Frankfurt, Wiesbaden, Wuerzburg, Fulda, Mainz, and Bonn. But the highlight was a four-day sojourn in Bayreuth where he attended the end of the opera season which closed with Wagner's Ring. At the performance of Gottterdammerung he was a guest of Frau Winifred Wagner, daughter-in-law of the composer, for whom he had done an errand in the East Zone during the seminar.

Mr. Elms took many pictures for slides with his new camera. These will be shown to his classes later in the semester. He found the Seminar most enriching and interesting.

Local Veterinarian Is Biology Dept. Guest

On January 19, Doctor B. G. Levine came to Farragut to give a lecture on animal parasites. The Third and Fourth Classmen taking Biology were surprised at the interesting information that Dr. Levine had to offer.

Dr. Levine's main topic was the Heartworm, a worm that clogs the heart of an animal with disease. He brought slides that were pictures of the worm in the heart of animals that had the disease, and also showed the effect of the disease.

Dr. Levine also had specimens of the worms in jars. His lecture held the interest of everyone who was there and the students learned a great deal.

Dr. Levine is a Toms River practicing veterinarian.

"Valentine" Informal Held In Shepard Hall

On Saturday, Feb. 6, the Hop Committee sponsored its second informal dance of the school year. It was the annual Valentine's dance, and was decorated accordingly, with red, pink, and white streamers, paper flowers and hearts. This was a very effective atmosphere for the dance. The music was supplied by the new Audio-Visual unit installed last fall.

The dance was attended by a majority of the Corps, and it was said by all who attended that the dance was very enjoyable.

Mr. Dayton O. Newton, Academy Music Director, kept his music organizations busy during the first semester with one of the heaviest schedules his department has ever had. The 35 piece Band, which rehearses during drill every day, provided music and cadence at all parades throughout the fall parade season, and presented its Christmas Concert on December 17 at 2000 in Robison Hall. In addition to this, the Band traveled to St. Mary's Hall in Burlington, N. J., on December 11 to present a concert in conjunction with the girls of that school. The Band featured Handel's "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor," "Twas The Night Before Christmas," and the traditional "Adeste Fideles."

The dance band performed on two of the above occasions; namely, the St. Mary's and the Winter Concerts. The 17-piece Band, which rehearses every Friday evening during study hall, presented renditions of "Lazy River," "Winter Wonderland," "Moonlight in Vermont," "Dixieland Christmas," "White Christmas," and "Jumpin' with Symphony Sid."

The Glee Club, 17 strong, performed "Brothers, Sing On," "My Lord, What a Mornin'," "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," and the "Winter Song" of Dartmouth College, at the St. Mary's and Winter Concerts. The group also entertained the Officers Wives Club from Lakehurst Naval Air Station at a luncheon at the Riverview Hotel, Toms River, on Thursday, December 10. At the dedication of the Brush Memorial Organ on Parent's Day, the chorus presented "The Lord's Prayer," "The 23rd Psalm," and "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Each of the groups has worked hard to prepare its performances, and Mr. Newton is certain that the second semester in the Music Department will be as successful as the first.

Toner '48 Promoted By General Electric

Frank J. Toner, '48 has been appointed Manager-Division Relations and Philadelphia Works Utilities Operation for the General Electric Co.

Mr. Toner, a former star athlete while at Farragut, earned all-state honors in football, track, and basketball. He also received an academic scholarship to Columbia U. upon graduating, where he was on the Dean's list for four years. While at Columbia he played varsity football and was Captain of the track team.

Mr. Toner joined the General Electric firm in 1952, and from that time until 1954 he served in a variety of Marketing, Manufacturing, and Engineering assignments. From 1954 to 1960 he held various Union Relations positions in the Jet Engine Dept. After coming to Phila. from Evandale, O., he was successively Manager-Employee Relations, High Voltage Switch-gear Dept., Manager-Union Relations, Switchgear and Control Div., and Manager-Employee and Union Relations, Power Transmission Div.

Mr. Toner is a member of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Phila., Manufacturers Assoc. of Phila., the U. of Pennsylvania Labor Relations Council, and the Industrial Relations Assoc. of Phila.

FINALE—Conductor D. O. Newton leads concert band in Christmas concert finale, with Glee Club and audience joining together to sing "Adeste Fideles."

VOCAL GROUP—Cadet Glee Club sings "My Lord, What a Mornin'" as one of five numbers presented at the Concert, held on December 17 in Robison Hall.

DANCE TIME—Featured as one of the participating groups is the Dance Orchestra, 16 men strong, which played such tunes as "Moonlight in Vermont," "White Christmas" and "Jumpin' with Symphony Sid."

Do You Speak The Language?

Every civilization since the beginning of man has had some form of law and enforcement, because it found that with the absence of such laws unacceptable anarchy would result. In all human dealings there must be a referee and a code of ethics to indicate actions compatible with group living.

Students, who because of physical or group pressure, succeed in influencing Cadet officers to adopt a tolerant attitude toward their improper conduct, are deceiving only themselves in the final analysis. For one day they will encounter in the world those who push their way around instead of making their way, and who are held for what they really are — immature adolescents.

The rules, both kept and broken, are here, and they are made to provide equal rights for the majority. Certainly, a lone exception to any said rule will not be of any dire consequence. The problem arises when it comes time to grant the exception, because in a system based on equality such extension of rights to a few inherently betray the rights of a majority.

In a situation of law common to all, each person has equal opportunity, provided he obeys the law. Also, if a law seems unfair, a suggestion to alter or abolish it, if made seriously and tactfully, will undoubtedly be well received.

Harrassing and heckling those who make and enforce rules is the worst way to obtain leniency? After all, communication of what and how you feel is the aim of human speech. Birds and animals understand each other because they speak their own languages. For human beings to understand each other they, too, must do the same.

First Dance For Club In Its 28 Year History

Cadet Kurt Vollherbst has announced that the Monogram Club is sponsoring a dance for its members on March 6. Cadet Vollherbst, who is president of the Club, stated that this proposition was placed before the members and the decision was unanimous. The dance will be held in the basement of Shepard Hall and the music will be furnished by the new Audio-Visual unit. The idea of the dance was suggested by Coach S. Slaby, the faculty advisor to the group, which, in itself, is a Farragut first.

The Monogram Club is a club comprised of varsity letter winners. In the past it has had little action, aside from its annual banquet at the end of the year.

Trained Seal Act Seen By Corps In Du Pont

This fall the Corps was treated to a most unusual program. Mrs. Dermite Wilson brought her traveling seal act to the Dupont Hall auditorium where she began by showing the talents of a full grown, fully-trained seal. These included balancing a ball on the end of its nose, catching rings over his head, and flapping his flippers.

One of the more interesting facts about Mrs. Wilson's exhibition was a baby seal with lectures on how it will be trained.

This unusual act was both interesting and the information was well received by the Corps.

Special Liberty For First Classmen Given

On Feb. 8 a directive was issued to the members of the First Class by Captain N. F. Reinhard informing them that beginning February 9 the privilege of senior liberty would be extended to them. Essentially, this means that a First Classman may leave the campus at four thirty any one night a week, Monday through Thursday, and return by ten o'clock.

The idea behind this privilege is to prepare the senior for the freedom he will encounter next year in college. This is the earliest that this privilege has been permitted in many years.

This is due to the fact that the First Class, as well as the rest of the Corps, has had a good record of compliance with regulations.

To be eligible for senior liberty the senior must have a minimum average of 80.0 and be passing all of his subjects.

Captain's Son-in-Law Skipped Constellation

Farragut's closest claim to fame in connection with the American Cup races last year, is Captain Paul C. Crosley, Head of the Department of Naval Instruction.

The skipper of the American boat, the Constellation, was Captain Crosley's son-in-law, Eric Ridder, who sailed his boat to the impressive victory registered over the English entry.

Successful Dance Is Held By Association

An extremely successful dance was held on Dec. 12 by the Farragut Parents' Assoc., under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Citta and Mrs. Robert Matthies. The event was held at the Pine Beach Vol. Fire Company's Social Hall, and ran concurrently with the Cadet Christmas Formal hop that was being held in Robison Hall.

Approximately 150 parents and friends filled the Social Hall, which was gaily decorated with Christmas colors and ornaments, to help the Association realize a net profit of $1684 for the benefit of its program to meet the six objectives it adopted at a meeting last fall.

Jim Welch and his fine orchestra provided very danceable music throughout the evening, and a delicious buffet supper was served around 11:30 p.m. A raffle for the awarding of more than seventy prizes was held earlier, during which time Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus (impersonated by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weisleder) drew the winning tickets and distributed the prizes to the lucky owners.

The dance was the sixth annual event scheduled by the Association, all of which have been for the benefit of the organization's program.

Assisting the Mesdames Citta and Matthies were: DECORATING—Mrs. J. Malzone, Mrs. A. Weisleder, Mrs. F. Cantore, Mrs. R. Frazier. HOSPITALITY—Mr. and Mrs. A. Weisleder, Mr. and Mrs. G. Senior Frosh Tutor System Is Valuable

Another innovation of this school year is the Senior Freshman tutor system. It is being employed by both Mssr. V. Romefelt and B. Soloway. Mr. Romefelt has been employing two seniors since the beginning of school to aid lagging students in the word study guide. From October to the end of November, Cadet Thomas Travis conducted the extra classes. At the beginning of December the responsibility was shifted from Cadet Travis to Cadet J. Joseph Bainton. Currently, Mr. Romefelt and Cadet Bainton have plans for extending the range of the program to include writing. The program has been widely acclaimed by those freshmen participating.

Mr. Soloway, with the assistance of Cadet Jay Pendleton, is presently initiating an extra help program in Algebra I, wherein the deficient freshman would be assisted in his studies by a capable senior.

Both of these programs have three-fold benefits: The first is that they lighten the load for the teacher; second, they assist the lagging freshman; and thirdly they afford the experience for a senior to be able to teach in a field that is of interest to him, which is an experience hard to acquire.

'37 Grad Heads Coast Guard Shore Units

One of the Alumni Association's ranking U.S. Coast Guard officers is Captain Elmer A. Crock, Class of 1937. Captain Crock has 26 years of longevity, for pay purposes, two years of which includes Naval Reserve duty while he was a Cadet at Farragut.

Captain Crock was recently transferred to Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, D. C., where he is now Chief, Shore Units Division. Operating out of the Office of Operations, his duties include recommending the establishment or disestablishment of all Coast Guard shore facilities, and managing those already in existence. His office answers all Congressional mail pertaining to the closing of stations, the reduction of man-power, and the reduction of boats. Captain Crock's division also manages all CG small boats (65 ft. and less) of which there are about 2700 of them. It also assigns them, provides for replacement, experiments and evaluates new types, and disposes of excess and worn out boats.

Captain Crock also coordinates for the Office of Operations all correspondence, and plans where operation divisions overlap in the fields of search and rescue, law enforcement, port security, communications, military readiness, aviation, large floating units, and recreational boating.

While at Farragut, Captain Crock was a member of the Band and played first trumpet. He also played varsity football, Inter-Co. basketball and baseball, varsity track, and varsity crew. He was editor of the 1937 Trident, played in the Dance Orchestra, and was ensign of the Band Co. He is married to the former Beverly Searle and they have two children.

Dramatics Club Slates Two New York City Trips

This year the Dramatics Club plans to take two trips to New York to attend Broadway productions. The first trip will be to attend "Any Wednesday" on some Saturday night in the month of February. As of this writing no date has been set. A maximum of forty-eight Cadets will attend under the supervision of Messrs Walker, Alwine, Smith, and Noble. The date of destination of the second trip is yet to be determined.

DuPont Auditorium College Test Center

The one light that will light up the weary life of a student and provide a master key to college these days, are three high digits on a college board card. As a test center, the auditorium in Du Pont Hall has been the site of the S.A.T. examinations twice this year.

Tests were administered to First Classmen and several outside students on December 5 and January 9. On both days, the Scholastic Aptitude Tests were given in the morning session, and the Writing Sample and Achievement Tests were given in the afternoon.

Under the S. A. T. program, achievement tests are offered in: American History, Social Studies, Biology, Chemistry, English Composition, French, German, Latin, Hebrew, Russian, Mathematics (levels I & II), Physics, Spanish, European History, and World Cultures. The Writing Samples are mailed directly to the colleges designated by the student.

The College Board tests will be administered again on March 6 and May 1, and there is also a testing session on July 14.

Club Productions Are Viewed By Cadet Corps

On November 25, the night before Thanksgiving Leave began, the Dramatics Club presented the melodrama, "No Mother to Guide Her." The show was well received by the Corps. The play was presented in the form of a narrated pantomime. The actors were Cadets W. Wedekind, R. Bower, G. Giles, J. Citta, D. Koza, E. Jones, K. Wolfe, R. Gurdian, R. Williams, and A. Shulimson. The action was narrated by Cadet J. Bainton.

On the night of December 17 the Club took part in the annual Christmas program. After a very fine performance by the Glee Club and the Band, the Club enacted the Christmas story. The actors participating in this show were Cadets J. Bainton, F. Adamo, R. Micklewright, E. Grein, J. Williams, A. Hurtado, D. Calve, D. Isbrandtsen, K. Wolfe, G. Hancock, R. Ciasuli, R. Bing, B. Chief Jackson Joins Naval Dept. Staff

A recent addition to the Naval Science staff is Chief James N. Jackson. Chief Jackson replaced Chief Hilliard Turpin. Both chiefs are quartermasters. Mr. Jackson, originally from Alabama, reported to us from the U.S.S. Poncha-toula, the flagship of the service force.

Chief Jackson is married and the father of three children, two boys, ages 14 and 4, and one girl, age 11. He and his family live in Toms River.

The Chief has been in the service for 23 years. During World War II he fought in both theatres. Chief says the most interesting duty he ever had was when he participated in the testing of the atom bomb.

Here at Farragut he teaches Naval Science I and III. Chief Jackson said that "Farragut is a fine school, and he is enjoying his work." After his tour of duty here at Farragut is completed he plans to remain in the service.

Debating Club New To The Farragut Campus

One of the newest clubs to be found on campus this year is the Debating Club. The Club was organized through the efforts of its faculty advisors, Mr. V. Romefelt and Mr. L. Smith. Giving assistance in the formation of the Club were Cadets S. Chasko and R. Helfand.

The purpose of the Debating Club is to develop the skills of public speaking and argumentative powers. At the present time the Club does not plan to engage other schools in competition. Instead, the members are planning debates among themselves. "This year is to be more of a foundation year," said Mr. Smith, when questioned about the Club's immediate future. However, he went on to say, "Next year, the hope is that the members will be able to represent Farragut in competition against other schools."

The Debating Club holds its meetings every Monday night at 1830. The Club is still open for membership and any Cadet who is interested in joining should attend one of the weekly meetings.

SENIOR CELEBS

Frank Mandia

Frank Mandia first formed up with the Second Company in September, 1961. Frank, better known as Corky hails from New Shrewsbury, N. J. Last year he was an Ensign of the Second Company, and this year is the commander of it, holding the rank of Lieutenant.

Corky is very active in sports, as last fall he held down the varsity fullback spot on the football team and he is also a very excellent baseball player. In addition to sports, Corky is a member of the Math, Hop, Monogram, and Weight Lifting Clubs. Also, he is a member of the Cum Laude Society and Senior Seminar, and is vice president of the First Class. And, finally, Corky, displays his literary talents by the fact that he is Humor Editor of the Capstan and Advertising Manager of the Trident.

Last year he won the Howell Plaque for the highest multiple of general proficiency for an Underclassman, a very highly coveted award.

In his spare moments, Corky studies, lifts weights, or calls Jill. It has also been rumored by "Captain Midnight" that Corky has been known to eat meatball sandwiches in his spare time.

Corky hopes to attend either Randolph-Macon College, where he has already been accepted, or Princeton to study corporate law.

Corky's advice to underclassmen is, "Whatever you get here at Farragut, get it on your own."

Daniel M. Winer

Daniel Winer, a native of Lynn, Mass., came to Farragut in September, 1961. Last year Dan was the Battalion

Chief Petty Officer, and this year he is the Battalion Commander, holding the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Commander.

Dan leads a very active sports life. During the fall he plays varsity football and this year he was one of the tri-captains. He spends the winter months working feverishly in the Weight Room in order to be ready to put the shot in the Spring. When Dan isn't building his muscles, he is active in the Monogram Club, Weight Lifting Club, and on the Staff of the Capstan and Trident. He is also a member of the Senior Seminar.

Dan hopes to become a doctor, and has taken steps in this direction by applying to Tufts and Dartmouth, where he hopes to take his pre-med courses.

Among Danny's favorites are "Woodpeckers, who keep tellin' ya that marks are just an arbitrary thing."

Dan's advice to underclassmen is, "Remember your life here at Farragut is as easy, or as tough as you want to make it."

Andrew V. Aldi

Andrew Aldi became a Farragut Cadet in September of 1961. He hails from Hillside, N. J. Last year, Andy was ensign of the First Platoon of the Third Company, and this year he has risen to the position of Third Company commander, holding the rank of lieutenant.

At Farragut, Andy leads an active life as a varsity basketball player and broadjumper on the track team. He is also a member of the Weight Lifting Club, Math Club, and Senior Seminar. To round out his very diverse field of activities he is Managing Editor of the Capstan and Sports Editor of the Trident.

Andy's ambition is to be as successful as his father. He has aspirations of attending either Cornell or the University of Pennsylvania to study business in order to realize this goal.

His advice to underclassmen is, "Profit by the mistakes of others, and plan accordingly."

J. Joseph Bainton

Joe entered Farragut in the fall of 1961. Last year, he served as the Second Class Petty Officer of the First Platoon of the Third Company. This year, he is the executive officer, holding the rank of lieutenant (j.g.).

Joe's life here at Farragut is a whirlwind of activities. He has been a member of the varsity wrestling team for the last four years. In addition he is a member of the Weight Lifting, Monogram, and Debating Clubs. He is a very active member of the Dramatics Club, for last year he had a lead in the Spring production, and has had major roles in the two productions presented this year. He is also a member of the editorial staff of the Trident and Editor-in-Chief of the Capstan. As a display of added intellectual prowess, Joe is a member of the Senior Seminar. To round out his personality in a nautical vein, Joe is an avid sailor. At home he races a Comet and here at Farragut he has won the Hughes Sailing award last year as a Junior. Incidentally, he was runner up the year before.

Upon graduation, Joe plans to prepare for a career as a trial lawyer. He says his choice of college will depend primarily upon where he is accepted; however, seeing as he has applied to Brown, Colgate, Duke, University of Virginia, and Kenyon, it seems that he will be in good hands no matter where he goes.

His pet peeves are bigots and canoes. Joe's advice to underclassmen is, "You must believe in yourself, before you can expect others to do so."

staff members what the Student Aid Fund now does for Cadets. "We must do everything possible to strengthen the teaching staff so that Farragut Cadets will always be assured of the best instruction and guidance needed for successful college preparation," Mr. Hutchinson said.

More emphasis will be made this year to not only increase Alumni participation in the Fund, but to enlist the additional support of more past parents and friends of the Academy.

FACULTY SPOTLITE

Mr. Robert Hunt, presently teaching Algebra II, is a graduate of the University of the South, in Sewanee, Tenn. There he majored in English and minored in mathematics. He had also attended Villanova University while studying engineering, and has done graduate work at the University of Missouri.

He came to A.F.A. in 1962, feeling he would be happy here. He had previously been teaching at the Missouri Military Academy, but being a native of Philadelphia, he wanted to be closer to home. He feels the student teacher relationship in public schools is too "Cut and Dry."

When still new at Farragut he taught English III, but he now is teaching Algebra II and Trigonometry combined into one course. Mr. Hunt is also assistant coach of football, and he has charge of the Inter-Company basketball program.

During the summer, Mr. Hunt works at the Farragut Summer Camp, and this coming summer will be his fourth year here.

Mr. Hunt is married, and has three children. They are Robert 7, Karen 5, and Joseph, who is 4. He takes an active interest in all sports, especially football, and is annoyed by Cadets who are improperly dressed.

With ulcers, price of being jerked bodily into the 20th century, complete with small industry and educational TV.

This is a capsule description given by Roger Allen '46, of Tucson, who with his wife, taught two years on this island in American Samoa.

"SAMOA HAD been a neglected area," Mr. Allen explains. "Now, it's in a transitional stage in an experiment by the U.S. government to see if we can bring a primitive culture up into the 20th century, largely by educational television."

Items the cultural quickchange artists are importing, says he, include:

Fish canneries ("Which use Japanese fishermen, because the Samoans don't like to fish this way.")

A soft-drink bottling works.

A coconut-processing plant.

More jobs, more dollars, electricity in every village, consolidated schools, a paved road running the length of the island.

They are trying to improve public health and sanitation.

They are making plans for a big tourist resort, run and staffed by Samoans.

"You have no idea of the pressures this rapid change causes," says Mr. Allen, now instructor of speech at the University of Arizona.

Here's just a partial list of conflicts between the "Old" Samoa and the "just-hatching" Samoa, according to Mr. Allen:

"Should a native wear traditional clothes, or American clothing?"

"Should he stick to familiar food, or buy new processed foods?"

"Should he live in the same kind of house he's always had, or should he try a prefab?"

And most of all, "What should he do with his money? Samoans have a terrific sense of family. Each family chooses a leader, or matai. He directs family activities. And a good share of money each family member earns traditionally goes to the matai.

"But now, should the Samoan give all his money—more than he used to have—to the matai, or should he keep it all himself?"

The conflict even goes into health, says Mr. Allen.

Native Bush medicine he explains, is common treatment for boils, cuts, wounds. Humidity slows down healing, speeds up infection, pushes a patient to the only hospital (in Pago Pago) only when he's almost past saving, says the teacher.

First to welcome American commodities, says Mr. Allen, are wealthier traders and merchants.

"The people in remote villages with fewer conveniences want to keep more to the old ways," he notes.

The island's educational TV station, opened just last month will help the islanders get set for jet, Mr. Allen believes.

"They're enthusiastic about education—it will help them get better jobs, go to the United States, especially Hawaii," he explains.

Mr. Allen estimates the 20,000 Samoans on the islands are matched by another 20,000 friends and relatives in the States—mostly in Hawaii, "promised land" of riches and good living.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were in the Valley recently attending sessions of the Arizona Speech and Drama Association at Trader Vic's, where Mr. Allen was featured speaker.

Mr. Allen, who won a "live chicken in a basket for teaching oral English," is making a study of Samoan oratory now.

"It's one of their finest arts," he says, "and has a long tradition.

"Each Village chooses 'talking chiefs' to be spokesmen. These chiefs have their own formal language. Their speeches must contain the right proverbs, genealogy, richly embellished figures and symbols. Each speech has its own traditional organization, and chiefs will debate on which one of them is best suited to deliver a speech for a particular occasion."

Speeches are not judged on originality, sincerity, and aptness of thought.

"Each speaker is judged by how well he organizes his speech, in traditional fashion; the exactness of his genealogical terms and facts; and the use of his figures of speech and suitable proverbs," Mr. Allen continues.

It is the Arizonan's hope someday to do a text for Samoan use. The texts used in schools there, he points out, are all U. S. written and printed.

"What does a Samoan know of snow? Or a railroad? Or a ranch?"

Practically every text used, says Mr. Allen, is completely out of the Samoans' everyday experience.

"We had to adapt everything to their own environment and make our own lesson plans," he relates. "And we (Mrs. Allen was teaching home economics) were teaching teachers. The Samoan elementary teachers had even more trouble."

For instance, to bring American math down to Samoan understanding he devised games fashioned from bottle caps and egg boxes.

"Here's where educational TV is expected to bridge the gap," he says. "TV educators are trying to re-orient the island's curriculum to make it more understandable to Samoans and reinforce the teachers in the field."

"Teachers in the field" mean several hundred Samoan elementary school teachers, approximately 75 Stateside teachers in secondary schools and college.

Rapid-transit culture has its price, even among serious, hard-working students: "Because of the differences in values, they try hard, but they don't always get the point," Mr. Allen concluded.

Court Team Now At 6-2

With victories over Pingry, Delbarton, Peddie, Blair, and Stevens, this year's version of the varsity basketball club has compiled a 6-2 record in eight outings. Peddie was beaten twice, while losses were registered to Hill School and Valley Forge.

On Dec. 16 the club opened its season against Pingry, at Hillside, and the game began with both teams having difficulty finding the scoring range. The first quarter ended with a tie score of 6-6, but the Middies caught fire with a 12-point surge and lead the host team 18-11 at the half. Farragut really exploded in the third period and went ahead 41-23, and the game ended with the Middies on the long end of a 53-30 margin. Bruce Greenspan led the attack with 20 points, while Jim Meagher chopped in with 15. Ken White was the leading rebounder for Farragut.

Delbarton

After a long Christmas leave, Farragut played host to Delbarton on Jan. 6. This was a hard-fought contest and neither team could get much of a lead at any one time. The half found the score at 33-31 for Farragut. The second half proved exciting as the lead changed hands several times. Finally, with the score tied at 48—all in the final quarter, Greenspan sank a jump shot and White was fouled on the same play. White put in his free throw and the game ended 54-50 for the Middies. Greenspan tallied 26, while White had 17, as well as 17 rebounds. Kurt Vollherbst did a good job holding Delbarton's high scoring Williamson to 19 points.

Peddie

On Jan. 13 the Middies played Peddie at Hightstown and took their measure by a 65-41 score to give Farragut a 3-0 record in as many outings. After trailing 13-18 in the first quarter, Vollherbst got the Middies going, outscoring Peddie 17-2, to take a 30-20 lead into the locker-room. The second half proved to be all Farragut as the Middies continued to pour it on. Greenspan was high man with 22 points, with Vollherbst contributing 15.

Hill School

The next encounter was with Hill School, at Pottstown, Pa., and proved to be the first stumbling block of the season. After racing off to a 13-6 first quarter, the Middies were outscored 15-12 in the next, which gave them a 25-21 lead as the halftime buzzer rang. The second half proved disastrous for Farragut, and with Greenspan fouling out with seven minutes remaining and White twisting an ankle, Hill came back strong to pin a 55-37 defeat on the visitors.

Peddie

It was Peddie again, this time at home, and Coach Slaby's charges tallied a 53-40 win for the record. Peddie took a 12-9 first quarter lead, but Farragut rallied for a 16-3 second quarter to put them out in front 25-15 at the half. The next two periods were quite evenly matched, but the Sailors maintained their pressure to cop the game handily. Greenspan, who scored only two points in the first half, pumped in 19 in the second for a 21 point total. Vollherbst followed with 15.

Valley Forge

It was defeat for the second time this season when the Middies succumbed to Valley Forge, at Wayne, Pa., 69-59, after playing a dismal first half that saw the Soldiers take a commanding lead of 22 points.

SCORING CHAMP — Bruce Greenspan, Middie co-captain, lays up a field goal during the Peddie School encounter, which Farragut won 53-40 at home on Jan. 29. Greenspan is currently sporting an average of 22 points per game.

After tallying only four points apiece in the first half, Greenspan and Vollherbst found the range and pumped in 16 points each in an attempt to close the gap on the fading Soldiers. The fast-moving Farragut club outscored Valley Forge 25-12 in the final period, but the early deficit proved too much for them to overcome. Greenspan's total of 122 points for six games gave him a 20.3 points per game average.

Blair

With a 4-2 record under its belt, Farragut next took the measure of Blair, at home, which was sporting an 8-1 win record up to that time. Blair led 19-17 at the end of the first quarter and 38-37 when the half ended. White, who played his best game of the season, collected 17 points by this time and had 12 rebounds to his credit.

With White out of the contest on fouls in the third quarter, Coach Slaby decided to play a ball control game. Greenspan started the freeze and when the period ended the score stood at 50-50. Greenspan continued the freeze in the final stanza, as the Middies only shot when they had a sure basket, and with 10 seconds left and the score standing at 56-all, Greenspan took a shot with 7 seconds remaining. The ball rolled off the rim, but Jim Meagher got the rebound and was fouled in the act of shooting. Meagher missed his first free throw, but calmly sank the second to give Farragut a 57-56 win. Greenspan and White each had 19 points.

Stevens

Stevens Prep visited Farragut on Feb. 6, and the game was close until Vollherbst and Greenspan started to hit the basket, and by the time the half had ended the Middies had a 28-20 lead. The game ended with the Middies on top 56-41. High scorer was Greenspan with 28 points, with Vollherbst 14 to assist. Top rebounder was Greenspan.

New Location Gives Club Many Advantages

The Weight Lifting Club has been very active this year. During the summer the Club was moved from its former location in Clark Hall to the basement of Robison Hall. This move was made because the Club had generated so much interest that its former location was far too constricting. The weights are now housed in a store room designed and built specifically for that purpose.

The new location also places the equipment next to the Isometric bars that are useful in physical development.

The Club also purchased additional weights and a new bar during the summer, thereby making the equipment more than sufficient. Coach Slaby is pleased with the great use of the equipment this year, and hopes that it will continue to grow throughout the years to come.

J. V's Lose First Game To Stevens Prep 45-38

The J.V. Court season began with a slow start this year, with the first game against Stevens Prep on February 1. The J.V. cagers worked hard all the way but could not get started fast enough to overcome their opponents by the end of the game. The final score gave Stevens 45 and the Middies 38. Bob McCann and Steve Meyer both were high with 8 points each.

In the starting slots are Lorenz, McCann, Meyer, Dilzer, and Spania. In the few remaining games, Coach Cameron Fisher has great hopes for a winning season.

Wayne Lorenz, a three year veteran, has been elected captain of the team.

Cadets, Coach Attend Heisman Award Dinner

On December 3, Cadets Edward K. Vollherbst and Jay Pendleton, along with the assistant football coach, Mr. Robert Hunt, traveled to New York City to attend the 29th annual Heisman Award Dinner. The trip and seat at the dinner were sponsored by Mr. James Pendleton, who is also president of the Parents' Association.

Letters Given To 44 Cadets At Dinner

Forty-four Cadets received their rewards for their efforts during the 1964 season, at the annual Fathers-Sons football dinner held on Nov. 21. The affair was held at Peterson's Charcoal Hearth Restaurant, Lakewood. More than sixty fathers and relatives joined with them to make the dinner one of the most successful ever sponsored by the Parents' Association.

Mr. James C. Pendleton, president of the organization, was toastmaster for the evening. Coach Stan Slaby made individual presentations of letters and certificates to all of the members of the squad, assisted by line coach Robert Hunt. Mr. Donald White personally presented autographed footballs to the tri-captains, Kurt Vollherbst, Bill Olinger, and Dan Winer, and Mr. Pendleton presented the Association's Outstanding Back and Outstanding Line-man awards to Vollherbst and Olinger.

Mr. Jack Winer presented each member of the squad with a medallion-key ring, each of the medallions engraved with A.F.A. and the year, and two football players on the reverse side.

A football film, obtained by Mr. Frank Mandia, was shown immediately following the dinner and presentations.

MINOR FOOTBALL "F" — Coyle, Fioravanti, R. Jones (Mgr.), Mitchell (Mgr.), Reiser, Taussig, and Thompson.

JR. VARSITY FOOTBALL "F" — Ambrose (Mgr.), Bedford, Di Pano, Fisher, Gaherty (Mgr.), and D. Hughes.

The Farragut representatives dined and met the award winner, John Huarte of Notre Dame, and listened to the interesting speeches given at the dinner.

All connected with the trip said they had a wonderful time and thanked the Athletic Director for picking them to take part in the occasion.

Rifle Team Going On Winning Pace

The rifle team has had a successful year, suffering only three defeats, twice to Valley Forge M.A., and once to Xavier. They have had seven victories, beating Seton Hall, Jr., Essex Troop, New York M. A., Red Bank, Bordentown M. I., Toms River H. S., and Lakewood.

The top five members have been John Bunell, Tom Malzone (Mgr.), Jay Howe, Dennis Moore (Capt.), and Bob Irwin. Contributing to the victories are Fred Fox, Russell Sell, and Edward Downer.

The rifle team has matches remaining with Xavier, Jr. Essex Troop, N.Y.M.A., and Bordentown.

Captain F. N. Klein, USN, Ret, new Assistant Head of the Department of Naval Instruction, is currently handling the team's coaching duties.

Captains Elected By Court, Wrestling Teams

Captains have been elected for this year's varsity wrestling and basketball teams, with two being chosen for each of the clubs.

In wrestling, George Bell, who competes at 123 pounds, and Alan Garland, who wrestles at 177, have been picked to lead the grapplers during the current season. George has been on the team for the past four years, while Al is finishing his second season with the Middies.

The court captains are Bruce Greenspan and Kurt Vollherbst. Greenspan has been the team's leading scorer for the past two years, and has already won three varsity letters in the sport. Vollherbst, who was also one of the tri-captains of the 1964 football team, has been on the basketball team for two years, winning his first letter last year.

Sportsman Of The Corps

The "Sportsman of the Corps" for this edition of The Capstan is Bill "Ollie" Olinger. Bill, who is from Caldwell, N. J. was one of the three captains of this year's football team and is now a member of the varsity basketball team. In the Spring you can find "Ollie" running laps around the track, as he is the quarter and half miler, holding the School record of (2:02.2) in the half mile.

Bill was picked as an outstanding athlete because of his great showing on the football field. He played offensive guard and defensive linebacker, showing equal skill in both positions. Nothing would stop "Ollie," not even painful injuries, suffered in an early season game at Delbarton. Bill was the mainstay of the Middie line, although one of its smallest men, standing six feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, considerably smaller than most middle linebackers . . . The main thing he had out on the field was his complete lack of fear.

When the season was over and all the coaches had voted, Bill was named to be on the All-state Prep School First team, an honor not to be shunned by anyone.

The Capstan staff, along with every member of the Corps, wishes to extend congratulations to an outstanding athlete and a fine all around person.

WRESTLING LOCALE—Scene of a recent wrestling match is Robison Hall's upper floor, where matches are held when there is no conflict with a home basketball game. Movable bleachers on both sides of the hall are ideal for viewing. Matches are held at the Hall's lower level if a home court game conflicts.

COURT STRATEGY—Coach Stan Slaby discusses game procedures with co-captains Kurt Vollherbst (left) and Bruce Greenspan. This is the twelfth season for the veteran coach.

Grapplers Compile 3-3 Record To Date

The Farragut wrestling team has compiled a 3-3 record so far this year. The outstanding wrestlers have been Don Tummons, Roger Hughes, Al Garland, and John Dagostino, each who has suffered only one defeat.

The Middies got off to a good start downing Lawrenceville 20-17. Dirk Isbrandtsen registered the only pin for Farragut, while Don Tummons, Rich Bower, Ted Bell, Roger Hughes, and Al Garland won victories by decision.

Farragut lost a heartbreaker to a tough Morristown Prep team 21-16. Dirk Isbrandtsen, Roger Hughes, and Al Garland won, while Don Tummons and Ted Cranmer drew.

Farragut suffered its second defeat to Blair 26-15. John Dagostino pinned his man, while George Giles and Bell also won. Ted Cranmer and Joe Bainton tied.

After these defeats Farragut trounced Delbarton 28-9. Ted Cranmer and Dagostino pinned, and Giles, Tummons, Isbrandtsen, Dave and Roger Hughes, and Garland won.

Farragut kept the ball rolling and defeated St. Bernard's School 37-6. Pins were registered by Giles, Roger Hughes, Dave Hughes and Garland. Other winners were Tummons, Bell, Cranmer and Isbrandtsen. Dagostino won his match by forfeit.

The Grapplers lost to an extremely strong St. Benedict's Prep 30-11. Dagostino pinned his man, while Tummons and Roger Hughes won on decisions.

Mr. Jay Shafta, handling the head Coaching reins for the first time, has done a commendable job with the Squad.

THE WINNER!—Official Robert Halsey holds Vince DiPano's arm in the air to indicate his decision over his Morristown Prep opponent in the 129 lb. class.

The "800" Deck and the Boiler Room

No matter where you go in the world, there is always the conception of heaven and hell. It's no different here at Farragut, except life after death to us is the "800" Deck and the Boiler Room.

Yes, all good Farragut Cadets believe that when they are no longer fit for duty, they will enjoy everlasting happiness on the "800" Deck. Everything is perfect up there. There are no R.C.'s. Everyone has a pipe. Drill shoes? Shined shoes? There is no difference up there, for shoes are always shined. It just goes along with the happy optional period every day. That's right! Optional period every day! You see, there is no drill. It's pretty easy to figure out, since it's quite logical you can't have drill without rifles and there are no arms allowed on the "800" Deck. Are there in Heaven? Of course teachers never go to the "800" Deck. Let's face it! Who needs them? There are no classes. As for the canteen up there, it's a heaven in itself. There is no waiting in line. Not with those ten beautiful blond angels behind the counter. They never run out of frozen Reeses Cups, Hava-tampas, glasses, hamburgs, or buns, Hon. There is none of this no charging without a blue slip if the cost of your item is over two dollars. Accounts never run out so, we don't need them. In each hall: Matthew, Luke, and John, there are 35 phones, free of charge, and no time limits. In other words, the Cadets there are care-free, lint free, and free of all N. A.'s and D.A.'s. There are no bells, bullets, canoes, janitors, college catalogues, taxi cab drivers, scrapple, hash, formations, band companies, and pens don't run out of ink. Since it is always warm, the uniform is always white work bottoms, scivvy tops, and V.C.'s.

But for all those Cadets who have excessive demerits or conduct unbecoming of a Farragut Cadet, there is the Boiler Room. Not many of us like to think of the life there. Everyone is a plebe. This means that they have to double-time everywhere. Shoes are never shined. This is probably the worst punishment there is. Every day the unfortunate Cadets have drill for two hours and formations for every meal that last for twenty minutes. Drill is tough; it is always held in the dust bowl with not only rifles, but knapsacks, bayonets, and watermelons, too. Reveille rings every morning at six o'clock. There is no washing up. You have five minutes to dress, ten minutes to eat, and fifteen minutes to mess up your room. Any violation of these times are subject to severe reprimanding. Classes are held from 6:30 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. and are two hours long. Dinner formation is at 8:05 P.M.

Incidentally, there are inspections at every formation. Anyone caught clean is immediately sent to his cave where he is to spend the rest of the night with everyone giving him a lot of attention as a form of punishment.

The canteen is open for ten minutes every day. This canteen is quite different from the one on the 800 deck. There is no food; ash trays, and garbage cans are always full, and worst of all the glasses are unbreakable. Outgoing calls are not allowed and there is only one incoming phone in each building. These calls are limited to thirty seconds. So, in the Boiler Room the Cadets are never left alone. There are plenty of bells, desert rats, parallel bars, Q.B.H.'s, rules, bones, baskets, thieves, cowards, eight bells, stick sheets, right guard, fish, and the sinks are never cleaned. Since it is always hot there, the uniform is unchanging: jerseys, U.D.B.'s, O.C.'s, H.C.G.'s, and O.S.S.'s.

So, for those Cadets who think that they are in the Boiler Room now, they can just settle back, relax, and take their punishment. Someday, they will be part of the 800 Deck. But for the outcasts, who think that they are already on the 800 Deck, we have a big surprise because they will feel the wrath of the Boiler Room.
