Class of 1965 Hears State Official At 32nd Graduation Program On June 6

Approximately 1200 persons attended the 32nd annual commencement exercises held on Sunday, June 6, for the 82 members of the Class of 1965 who received their diplomas in Robison Hall. Dr. Joseph E. Clayton, Deputy Commissioner of Education for the State of New Jersey, was the featured speaker during the morning program that began at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Clayton used nautical terms in exhorting his listeners to compile their own set of Rules of the Road as they embarked on their voyage of self-discovery. "By doing this," he said, it helps us to define our own aims by revealing what we can and cannot do."

"Don't be traitors to the opportunities you have enjoyed," he said. "You are not finishing your education today. You are just beginning it, and if you really become educated you will never complete it. This concentrated effort of mind and scholarship to educate you has not been made to merely give you an economic advantage in life. There is a higher purpose, and that is the hope that you will return to the service of the society, the scholarship and character that will make a mighty contribution to the maintenance of freedom and peace in the world."

Cadet Thomas G. Travis, in his Salutatory address, called for the abolishment of mediocrity and conformity, and for the advancing of initiative and reason.

"What we all need is a fire kindled in us to make us think, to make us move, to make us support the right ways, to make us disgusted with our current plight, and to make us excel. This fire can be ignited by meeting opportunity with courage, drive, and eagerness. All of us have the opportunity, but how many of us have the spirit, courage, drive, and eagerness? The problems that beset us today are not only for the young to solve, nor for the old, but should be met by a united group. Instead of the old blaming the young and vice versa, we should unite, then conquer. Admiral David Glasgow Farragut once said: 'We shall teach the young, for they are the only hope of the future, and in this way, they shall help us.' It would not hurt to follow his advice."

Cadet John W. Bunnell, Rochester, N. Y., took top honors during the program as he received the Headmaster's Scholarship Award for having the highest scholastic average for the year; the Faculty Scholarship Awards in English, Science, and Mathematics; the Cederic A. Lewis Award for excellence in mathematics; and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute Award for Mathematics.

Cadets Andrew Aldi, Richard W. Bower, Charles T. McGee, and Eric Siegeltuch were inducted into the Cum Laude Society. Requirements for membership demand academic standings in the top five percent of the Class.

The Rev. Ansley G. Van Dyke, Academy Chaplain, delivered the benediction and invocation, while Captain R. O. Dodge, Headmaster, presented the awards and diplomas.

Other winners of Cadet Awards included:

Headmaster's Scholarship Awards—J. Grossman, R. Fisher, D. Yoho.

Faculty Scholarship Awards for English—M. Pearsall (4), F. Bedford (3), R. Hughes (2).

Faculty Scholarship Awards for History—V. Fernandez (4), V. Garcias (3), J. Statts (2), Siegeltuch (1).

Faculty Scholarship Awards for Science—F. Zekowski (4), D. Read (3), J. Statts (2).

Faculty Scholarship Awards for Mathematics—G. Fitzgerald (4), R. Fisher (3), J. Grossman (2).

Faculty Scholarship Awards for Language—K. Buckman (4), R. Lalor (3), J. Statts (2), J. Bainton (1).

The William Johnson History Award, presented for the first time this year, was won by E. Siegeltuch.

Following the closing of the program with the traditional tossing of hats into the air, the Corps assembled for the final formation in front of Shepard Hall, where commissioned officers were presented their permanent certificates of rank.

Those receiving certificates included: R. W. Bower, J. C. Pendleton, F. Meyer III, G. E. Bell, R. J. Fogliani, L. G. Malzone, T. G. Travis, J. A. Meagher, D. Isbrandtsen, J. M. Hinkle, F. J. Mandia, T. W. Tyler, E. J. Siegeltuch, G. H. Kinemond, A. W. Aldi, J. J. Bainton, B. G. Brown, A. R. Garland, R. G. Dilzer, and R. M. Williams.

Statts Takes Final Honors; 95% Avg.

Cadet John F. Statts of Cape May, N. J., finished with the highest academic honors for the month of May, the final marking period of the 1964-65 school year. The second classman posted a 95.4% average, finishing 1.4% higher than Cadet Robert Micklewright of the First Class.

Other Cadets winning Blue and Silver Academic ribands with Silver Star for having averages of 80% or better, were:

FIRST CLASSMEN & POST GRADUATES—Siegeltuch, Bunnell, Mandia, Scott, L. Moore, McGee, Bainton, Warble, Travis, R. Williams, Tummons, Tyler, Dunne, Meagher, Schechner, Alvarado, Rich, Fogliani, Hinkle, Aldi, Weisleder, Coppess, Barr, D. Murphy, B. G. Brown, Roman, Basley, Gowack, Bower, Kunzelman, Bell, Meikeljohn, Olinger, Winer, D. Moore, and R. Hageman.

SECOND CLASS — Grossman, R. Hughes, DiPano, Donbroski, Rinderer, Good, Jones, Price, Gottschling, McGeoch, Sandford, Dudley, Ginter, Bechtel, Taussig, Sutton, Doherty, and Fichtl.

THIRD CLASS—Fisher, Garcias, Lalor, Walker, R. J. Dilzer, Rainville, Giles, Wynkoop, Tribble, Read, Fox, Bedford, Benson, E. Jones, Ciasulli, Weisbecker, Boxx, Gurdian, Sissler, Nilsen.

FOURTH CLASS—Fernandez, Fitzgerald, Zekowski, Chasko, Pearsall, Helfand, Cantore, Yoho, McNeil, Rabida, A. Jones, Strong, Cramer, and Spania.

'65 Cadillac Winner!

Mrs. H. J. Samuelson, 100 Flag Point, Toms River, N. J., was the winner of the 1965 Cadillac that was raffled off by the Farragut Parents' Association on Friday, June 4.

Mrs. Samuelson, a long time resident of the Toms River area and a good friend of the Academy, was notified at her home after the ticket was drawn at the Pine Beach Fire Co., the scene of the Parents' Association dance. The drawing was made by Association president James C. Pendleton, announced by the Hon. Anthony M. Livoti, president-elect of the organization, and supervised by LCDR W. Masciangelo, Public Relations Officer for the Academy.

All 2000 tickets on the raffle were sold prior to the drawing, which was held at 11:30 p.m.

Steps Are Taken For Field Improvement

Plans have been completed for the initial stage of improving the Upper Athletic Field, and returning Cadets will be pleased with the appearance and potential utility of this athletic area during the 1965-66 school year.

The improvement program was one of a number of important projects adopted by the Parents' Association last year, and approximately $6,000 was made available for the purpose of upgrading the field. These funds will cover the cost of removing all of the gravel areas, replacing it with top soil, fertilizing, grading, and seeding. In addition, a new baseball diamond is being constructed, and the backstop has been moved slightly to accommodate a larger area for fans along the Hillside Avenue end of the field.

Working in conjunction with the Association, the Academy has installed a cyclone fence around the entire field at a cost of more than $2,000.

The cleared area behind the former Music Building has also been cleared, graded, and seeded, and it is anticipated that this field will be used more extensively this fall while the Upper Field's newly planted seed has an opportunity to take hold and produce a good stand of grass.

D. G. Farragut Gifts Donated To Museum

The School's museum has been the recipient of a number of gifts recently that are to be added to the Admiral David G. Farragut memorabilia that the Academy has been acquiring over the years.

One gift was received from John M. Weiler, Class of 1944, who purchased for the Academy an original and authenticated letter written by Admiral Farragut on Sept. 28, 1867, when he was commander of the Navy's European Squadron, off the port of Lisbon, Portugal. The letter was written to the Commander of the USS Guard and concerned some sailors who were being detained for a general court martial. Admiral Farragut was aboard the USS FRANKLIN, flagship of the Squadron, when he wrote the letter.

Mr. Weiler is Assistant Vice President of the City National Bank of Beverly Hills, Calif.

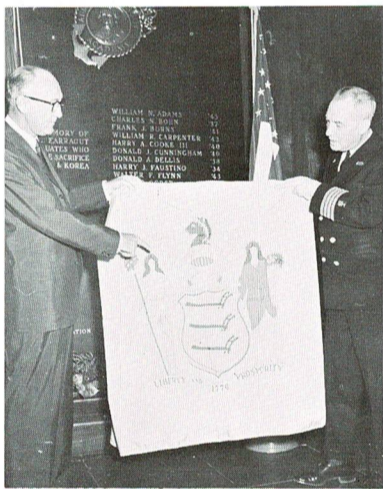

Mr. Harry H. Hillburgh of Piermont, N. Y., an antique dealer, sent several items of interest to the Academy via Mr. D. O. Newton, and the schooner Emma C. Berry when he read about the famous craft during its recent trip up the Hudson River. Among the gifts presented was a flag used by the Admiral aboard one of his flagships, a biography written by the Admiral's son, Loyal, and a large collection of newspaper clippings concerning the famous Farragut when he was living and active in the New York area.

These items will be turned over to Captain Paul C. Crosley, USN, Ret., head of the Naval Science Dept., who has been instrumental in the development of the museum. The museum is located in what used to be the Canteen area in Farragut Hall.

Donates To Library

Mr. Edward W. Richards, Academic building house man for years, has donated to the Library each copy of the Reader's Digest Condensed Books as they are published.

Cadets and Alumni will remember his cheerful "top of the morning" expression whenever he encountered anyone in the course of his work on the campus.

STATE FLAG — New Jersey State Assemblyman from Toms River presents a State flag to the school. He is shown pointing out the features of the flag to Captain R. O. Dodge, Headmaster, in the lobby of Shepard Hall where the flag will be displayed.

Court Given By Parents Association

An outdoor athletic court that accommodates either an official-size basketball court or two volley ball courts, slightly smaller than official in size, was presented to the Academy by the Parents' Association on Sunday, May 2nd. President James C. Pendleton, presented a check for $3000 to Captain R. O. Dodge, Headmaster, during the ceremonial parade held on this date.

The court is surfaced with a green plastic substance, with lines for both the volleyball and basketball courts in white. Permanent backstops are at either end, with posts and nets for both volleyball courts installed so that they can be removed easily.

A concrete curbing was also built to provide a nine-foot apron around the area, with topsoil and grass seed added to help preserve the surface and to provide a more attractive appearance.

Parents Elect Judge A. Livoti President

The annual Spring Parents' Day program was held on Sunday, May 2, with a large number of parents, relatives, and friends in attendance.

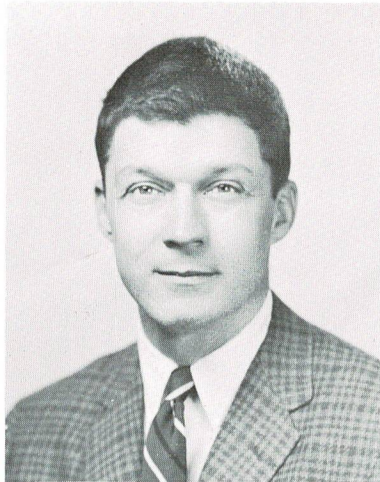

Judge Anthony M. Livoti, Bayside Gables, N. Y., a justice of the Supreme Court of New York and father of Cadet A. M. Livoti, Jr., was elected president for the 1965-66 year at the annual election held during the meeting held in the DuPont auditorium at 10:30 a.m.

Prior to the Association meeting, Cadets and their guests joined together at a special Chapel service in Robison Hall at 9:35. Dining out for all hands began at 11:30. A special conference for parents of Second Classmen was conducted by Captain Dodge at 2:00 p.m., and parents were able to visit with faculty members from 2:30 until 3:30. A ceremonial parade and the annual Manual-of-Arms contest sponsored by the Alumni Association, were held at 3:30, after which Cadets were again permitted to dine out with their parents. The newly elected Executive Committee members were entertained at the home of the Headmaster following the parade.

Other officers elected at the morning meeting were: Harry Smith, 1st V.P., Walter Shelly, 2nd V.P., George Giles, 3rd V.P., Dorothy Weisleder, Secretary, and George Wilson, Treasurer. Elected to two year terms on the Executive Committee were: Herbert Walmsley, Snowden Jones, and Dewey Rainville; three year terms, Felix Cantore, Theodore Spania, and Stephen Chasko.

Retiring president James C. Pendleton announced that the membership record had reached 86.56% of the total potential, and while he was disappointed that last year's record of 89% was not exceeded, he felt this record was commendable. Mr. Pendleton also announced that a check for $3000 was being presented at the parade that day to pay for the cost of constructing the outdoor athletic area, located behind Robison Hall.

President Livoti called on all parents to take an active part in the Association affairs, for by doing something beneficial for the Academy "we will be doing good for our sons at the same time." He pledged to follow in the same tradition of achievement of all previous presidents of the organization.

APPOINTED — Vernie Romefelt has been named Head of the English Dept. beginning with the 1965-66 school term. Mr. Romefelt holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Syracuse University, is a veteran of the Naval Air Corps, and worked for two years for the New York Times prior to joining the Farragut staff. He is married to the former Wynne Berry of Toms River, and they have one son, Alan Dayton.

Rowe '51 Appointed to Admissions Office

The appointment of LCDR Kirk W. Rowe, USN, Ret. to the position of Assistant Director of Admissions has been announced by Captain R. O. Dodge, Headmaster.

A graduate of Farragut with the Class of 1951, LCDR Rowe joined the staff on May 24, and has worked actively during the past Camp Enrollment period, as well as the current School campaign.

He holds a B.S. degree from the U.S. Naval Academy, and served with the U.S. Navy until his retirement on June 1 of this year. While on active duty he served for three years as Operations Officer aboard the USS WADLEIGH, one year as Executive Officer on the USS AVENGE, two years as personal aide to Commander Mine Force Atlantic Fleet, placed the USS Sampson in commission and then served as Operations Officer aboard it, and two and a half years in the officer distribution division of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Wash., D. C.

LCDR Rowe is married, and he and his wife, Margaret, have three children: Kirk, Jr., Catherine, Jeffrey.

While at Farragut, LCDR Rowe was C.O. of the First Co. with the rank of LT, and participated in varsity basketball and Inter-Co. football, track, soccer, sailing, and crew. He also was a member of the Hop Committee, Monogram Club, and Cotillion Club. He was a coxswain and a marksman.

LCDR Rowe lives at 811 Oceanview Drive, Toms River.

Borough July 4 Program Held On Academy Campus

The annual Independence Day observance by the residents of the Borough of Pine Beach was held at the Academy on July 4th.

The football field, stands, and loud speaking system are used each year by the Borough. A parade, drilling, running races, and various games contests are all part of the day's program. The event is run by the local Fire Dept. in cooperation with the Borough.

Club Groups Were Busy Last Spring

Cadet groups last Spring held and attended a number of activities that provided entertainment as well as information that could be considered beneficial.

The Biology Club, sponsored by Mr. Z. Farag, instructor, visited the Bronx Zoo and the Museum of Natural History in New York City on March 7. Officers of the Club included: Cadets J. Latour (President), G. Basley (Vice President), and K. Fichtl (Secretary).

The Mathematics Club was established originally during the 1963-64 school year under the leadership of Mr. Jay W. Shafa, head of the Math Dept. The Club has had lectures by several members of the Faculty: Mr. B. Solloway on computers and careers in Mathematics; Mr. S. Darby on Groups; Mr. T. Burke on Cybernetics, and Mr. Hunt on Statistics. Mr. Shafa also addressed the group and explained the Matrix theory.

Special guest speaker, Arthur Mierish, Class of 1955, and an electrical engineer of the Electronics Associates firm in Long Branch, not only spoke to the Club here on campus, but arranged for the group to visit the plant and watch the assembly of digital computers that are produced by that organization.

A first was introduced by the Monogram Club last year when an informal dance was held by the Club on March 6 in Shepard Hall. The Audio-Visual Room was decorated to represent the various varsity sports, and the music was taped and played through the Room's superb sound system. Kurt Vollherbst was president, and Ted Cranmer, Vice President. LT S. Slaby is the moderator.

The Senior Seminar of the Open Mind, consisting this year of eleven First Classmen, hosted two psychologists at their March 14 and May 2 meetings, and attended the Broadway production of "Tiny Alice" on April 16. A buffet dinner for members and their parents was held on Saturday evening of Parents' Day weekend at the home of Mr. Jahn F. Noble, Club advisor.

Members of the First Class attended the presentation of "The Birds" at the McCarter Theatre, Princeton, on April 25. The Class had read the Greek classic prior to its visit and was looking forward to seeing the live interpretation. The group dined at the Howard Johnson Restaurant in Toms River upon its return to the Academy.

"Mister Roberts" Proves Hit For "Footlighters"

"Mr. Roberts" was the production staged by the Cadet "Footlighters" group on Saturday, May 8, in Robison Hall. Produced and directed by Messrs. J. Walker and Larry Smith, both of the English Department, the popular play met full approval by an enthusiastic Cadet audience.

The cast included Cadets J. Pendleton (Mr. Roberts), W. Wedekind (Chief Johnson), R. Dunne (Dowdy), R. Micklewright (Captain), J. Citta (Insignio), G. Skiba (Mannion), B. G. Brown (Lindstrom), R. Wise (Wiley), D. Isbrandtsen (Reber) R. Bower (Ensign Pulver), and G. Kinemond (Dolen).

Teachers Attend 2 Educ. Conferences

Two members of the teaching staff attended conferences last March that dealt with their related fields.

On March 4, 5, and 6 Mr. Verne Romefelt participated in the annual conference of the National Association of Independent Schools, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago. The purpose of the session was to find the weaknesses of private schools and to propose corrective measures. Mr. Romefelt also attended meetings pertaining to new trends in teaching and curriculum, plus new methods of teaching grammar. He also had an opportunity to talk with authors and publishers of text books.

LCDR David Elms, Language Dept. Head, on March 20 attended the N. J. Modern Language Association's Spring meeting at Montclair Teachers College.

The topic discussed had mostly to do with the written language in the modern linguistic setup. The new Educational Records Bureau cooperative tests in modern languages were also described and discussed.

LCDR Elms also had an opportunity to attend a luncheon meeting of the N. J. Classical Language Association while at Montclair.

MISS CAPSTAN 1965 — Miss Ginger Williams of 121 No. Oxford Ave., Ventnor, N. J., was chosen Capstan Queen this year. Her picture was submitted by Cadet Harry James Ruffu '65.

Cadets Participate In Co. Day Program

On April 7 eleven Cadets, under the supervision of Mr. Richard Weyte of the History Department, travelled to the County Court House in Toms River to represent Farragut at the Ocean County Student Government Day program. The Cadets attending were John Alvarado, Leroy Bechtel, Jonathan Williams, James Hode, Eric Siegeltuch, William Barr, Charles McGeoch, George Kinemond, Donald Tummons, Robert Williams, and Thomas Tyler.

The program was sponsored by the Ocean County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the American Legion for the purpose of giving the students a chance of obtaining a better understanding of our democratic system of government. Some of the subjects discussed were the use of voting machines, the duties of a judge, and the basis of the County court system.

A luncheon at the Riverview Hotel followed the program, with the Hon. Robert F. Novins, Ocean County Judge, as the guest speaker.

Students from every high school in the County attended, with all participants assigned to various departments of the County organization.

Booklet Available To Help Understand Tests

Parents interested in learning the meaning of testing as it applies to those given to students in an attempt to measure their ability to learn and what already has been learned, should purchase an excellent booklet entitled, "Parents' Guide To Understanding Tests."

The booklet is published by the Educational Records Bureau and costs $1.00 per copy.

Chapters contained in the booklet deal with Types of Standardized Tests, School-wide Testing, Statewide Testing Program, School Admission and Placement Tests, College Admission, Scholarship and Placement Tests, Testing for Educational and Vocational Guidance Outside of the Schools, How Test Results Are Expressed, What Test Results Mean, and Pointers on Preparing for Tests. The booklet has been prepared especially for the average layman to read and understand.

Cadet Units Are In Memorial Day Program

The Band Company and Glee Club participated in the annual Toms River American Legion observance of Memorial Day on Sunday, May 30, in a special program held at the Toms River High School athletic field.

After forming up at the Legion Court, the participating groups marched to the field via Main, Washington, and Horner Streets, where the services were then conducted. The Band furnished music for the National Anthem, and the Glee Club sang "Eternal Fathers."

This year's program was the first time in recent history that the usual large-scale parade was not held.

31st Annual Camp Ends Aug. 21st; 200 Attend

Two hundred youngsters between the ages of 9 and 16 ended the 31st consecutive summer camp program held here on August 21st.

In addition to a large number of land and water activities that are part of the daily program, almost one-half of the Campers each year take academic work to either strengthen weak subjects or to make up failures.

The Camp is divided into two groups: The Dolphins (ages 9 through 13) and the Naval Cadets (ages 14 through 16). All of the regular Academy facilities are made available for use by the Campers while the summer activity is in session. Daily fishing trips are taken aboard the "AFA" in the Barnegat Bay area, and Campers used, for the first time, the new outdoor athletic court that was built last Spring.

Captain N. F. Reinhard, Director of Activities during the school year, is the Camp's director.

Takes Summer Course

Stanley A. Darby, Jr. of the Math Dept., spent eight weeks of the summer attending an institute for 71 secondary school teachers of mathematics at Gainesville, Fla. The session was backed by an $89,360 grant from the National Science Foundation.

The Cum Laude Society

Since the Farragut Chapter of the Cum Laude Society was established in 1961, 41 Cadets have been inducted as In Course Members, while seven Alumni were installed as Charter Members at the time the organization was formed. Listed below are the names of all members of record, as well as the colleges to which they matriculated or at which they have been accepted (as in the case of the Class of 1965):

Edenfield '62 Combines Flying With Studying

After completing two years at Washington U. in St. Louis, Mo., Keen Edenfield '62 transferred to Emory U., from where he expects to graduate in 1966 and then enter law school.

He is Secretary of Beta Chi chapter of Sigma Chi, and also a member of Alpha Kappa Psi and Alpha Phi Omega. He says that he is on the tennis team, although not one of its stars.

Keen has done a lot of flying since his Farragut days, and has even earned his Commercial and Flight Instructor ratings. He has been working part-time with Executive Aviation in Atlanta, Ga., while going to school. He flies charter trips all over the U. S. on weekends and during the summer months, plus instruction flying. In the summer of '64, he and a friend took an old open cockpit plane and flew it to Calif. via Canada and then returned via Mexico. They slept under the wings many nights and worked at many little airports and farms all through the Midwest.

While Keen doesn't expect to make flying his vocation, he intends to combine it with his business in the future.

IN APPRECIATION—Cadets Alan Garland and Lloyd Moore present gifts, on behalf of the Academy and the Musical groups, to Mr. and Mrs. H. Kneeland Whiting (he of the Class of 1950) following their appearance in the Spring Concert on March 25. The Whitings did a scene and songs from Brigadoon.

WANNA LEAD A BAND?—Coach Stan Slaby appears to be getting a bigger kick out of the part he played when he was called to the stage to lead the Concert Band in a special number during the Spring Concert. COUNTY DAY—Cadets J. Hode, L. Bechtel, and J. Alvarado are shown receiving Certificates of Participation at a luncheon held at the Riverview Hotel, Toms River, during Ocean County Day last Spring.

N. Y. Paper Does Feature On Cadet

Cadet Fred O'Barski '67 was featured in a New York Sunday News article this past February because of his career as a political campaigner for the Democratic Party that began during the John F. Kennedy bid for the presidency.

Known as the "Democratic Drummer Boy" during that particular campaign, he received praise from scores of nationally prominent politicians, he taped a 15-minute television interview which was shown as a political advertisement, and he has conducted door-to-door solicitation tours to raise funds for the National Democratic organization. He has sent out as many as 40,000 pieces of campaign literature to the 12 largest states, and has been on a speaking tour through N.J., N.Y., and Pa. shopping centers.

Those who have written letters of appreciation to Fred say they're amazed at his grasp of national policies, his background of facts, and his knowledge of the issues. Some have suggested that he's at the beginning of a brilliant career in politics, but Cadet O'Barski is unimpressed.

Speaking of his two years at Farragut, where he will be entering his junior year this fall, he said, "I'm here to get an education, not a political career. I want to be a marine biologist, not a politician. I can't vote, and I feel I have to do something for my country. That's why I get so wrapped up in political campaigns. I'll stick to becoming a marine biologist and leave the politics to the politicians."

Tentative arrangements have been made for a featured article to appear in the Saturday Evening Post by a reporter of the News staff, who became interested in the youngster and has worked hard to have his story told.

Music Dept. Performed To Please All Hands At Annual Spring Concert

The Academy's Music Department put on its annual Spring Concert on March 25 with a program of music selected to please everyone.

Under the direction of Mr. Dayton O. Newton, the program began with Cadet H. G. Smith telling the story of "The Flying Dutchman Opera," immediately followed by the Concert Band playing the Overture from "The Flying Dutchman," by Wagner. A moving piece, it held the attention of the Corps of Cadets, faculty, and parents alike. "Hear that Dixieland Band" was the next number, featuring a clarinet solo by Cadet R. G. Dilzer. The mood was changed to Debussy's "Clair de Lune," giving the Band an opportunity to show tonal qualities. For the evening's novelty number the Band played "The Instant Conductor." Calling Coach Stan Slaby to the podium, Mr. Newton proceeded to give him lessons on how to lead the band in a waltz number "The Band Played On." Upon Mr. Newton handing the "stick" to Coach, the Band played a march version of the waltz, leaving Coach Slaby most confused. "Bugle Call Boogie" featuring the brass section, was the last number played.

Cadet G. Fitzgerald played the beautiful Prelude in C Sharp Minor by Rachmaninoff to precede the Glee Club. The performance began with the Navy Hymn, and the Club opened with "Gloria," followed by "Lonesome Road," "Water Boy," and the popular "This is All I Ask." Next came the Barbershop Quartet, with Cadets E. Bonopane, J. MacKenzie, E. Siegeltuch and R. Wise singing "Coney Island Babe" and "Mr. Moon." They were one of the highlights of the concert. "The Mermaid," a sea chanty, ended the singing of the Glee Club. An instrumental duet from Rigoletto by Cadets Wedekind and MacKenzie, playing the Flute and Sousaphone, immediately followed the Glee Club.

The evening's highlight was the Dance Band's tribute to Glenn Miller. As the curtain opened, the smooth strains of "Moonlight Serenade" filled the gym, followed by the jumping "Jersey Bounce." Such great numbers as "Pennsylvania 6-500," "String of Pearls," and "Tuxedo Junction" followed, featuring Cadets R. Sugermeyer, E. Bonopane, S. Latour, R. G. Dilzer and R. Rosen as soloists. The most famous of all Glenn Miller hits "In The Mood," was the last number by the dance band. It featured a sax battle by Cadets R. G. Dilzer and R. Lyman, a trombone solo by Cadet Shelly, and the always popular, fast moving drum solos, by Cadets R. Williams and J. Taussig.

Instrument solos were next on the program. Cadet R. E. Wise played "Lucy Long" a solo for the bassoon, which was followed by "The Three Blind Mice and One" a quartet with Cadets R. Rosen, R. Williams, B. Pforsich and W. Wedekind playing "It Ain't Necessarily Summertime." "Thoughts of Love," for the Trombone, was played by Cadet S. Shelly ending the solos.

Before the final number of the evening the two guest artists, Mr. Kneeland Whiting, graduate of Admiral Farragut Academy in the Class of 1950, and his wife, Suzette, put on a scene from the Broadway show, "Brigadoon." On the completion of the scene the Band played the music from Brigadoon with Mrs. Whiting singing such songs as "Heather On The Hill," "Come to me, Bend to Me," and "It's like Being in Love." Mrs. Whiting was presented a bouquet of roses and a corsage by the Music Department, and a set of Wedgwood Commemorative plates was given to Mr. and Mrs. Whiting by the Academy.

Library Receives 18 Books from Alumni

A generous gift of 18 new books to the Academy Library was made by two members of the Alumni Association last Spring. The donors are E. J. Hinkle and Eric Schmidt, both of the Class of 1961, and both students, at the time, at the University of Southern California. In their letter telling about the presentation, the Academy graduates indicated that they will be glad to send additional books at a later date.

In making the gift, Hinkle and Schmidt pointed out that the books present "a more or less Republican viewpoint and that they believe both viewpoints should be presented. However, we don't feel that this necessitates the spending of our money to present ideas which we feel are invalid. We'll leave it up to the Democrats to present their own point of view."

The books donated are: Check-off, Why Not Victory, American Might and Soviet Myth, From Major Jordan's Diaries, Study of Communism, Naked Communist, Guide to Anti-Communist Action, Economics in One Lesson, Walter Reuther, Kohler Strike, Red Carpet, I Led Three Lives, JFK—the Man and the Myth, The Roosevelt Myth, Out of Bondage, The Committee and its Critics, The Fearful Master.

June Ball Held For Parents On June 4th

Chalk up a first for the Farragut Parents' Association! It finally happened on June 4th, the same night of the Cadet June Ball, when parents and their friends attended the first Parents' June Dance ever held. Approximately 190 persons crowded into the Pine Beach Fire House to produce a memorable evening for the adults while their Cadet sons and dates were cavorting in Robison Hall. Further, the affair was billed as a benefit function and produced a net profit of $1210 for the Association and its 1964-65 program of objectives.

Music was furnished by Jim Welch and his lively band, a raffle consisting of six special prizes was held at approximately 10 p.m., and a number of dance games were held to liven up the party prior to the drawing for the 1965 Cadillac at 11:30. A midnight buffet was served to the host of hungry dancers prior to the end of the dance at 1:00 o'clock a.m.

Chairwomen for the function were Mrs. Regina Citta and Mrs. Helen Matthies. A large number of other parents served on the Committee, who all worked through the office of LCDR W. Masciangelo, Executive Secretary of the Association.

Committee Meets

A meeting of the Parents' Association Executive Committee was held at the Hotel Roosevelt, New York City, on August 18th.

THE BIG MOMENT—James C. Pendleton, immediate past president of the Parents' Association, is shown as he pulled the winning ticket for the 1965 Cadillac raffle at the dance held on June 4. Mrs. Helen Samuelson of Toms River was the lucky winner with ticket No. 1822.

Dr. Guy Is Recovering After Long Illness

Friends of Dr. Frank S. Guy will be glad to learn that he is at home and recuperating nicely after a long siege of illness at the Community Memorial Hospital, Toms River.

Dr. Guy was first admitted to the hospital around the first of May, where he spent approximately 9 weeks as a patient.

The Director of Admissions is looking forward to resuming his duties at the Academy some time during the month of September.

N.Y.M.A. Game To Highlight Homecoming

The date of this year's annual fall Homecoming Day has been set for Saturday, November 6th, according to Alumni Secretary W. Masciangelo.

The program will feature a football game with New York Military Academy at 2:30 p.m., and will be preceded by the annual business meeting of the association at 11:30, and the Alumni Luncheon at 12:30.

Following the game there will be a reception until 5:30 at the Ye Olde Cedar Inn, after which dining and dancing will be held until 9:30. The Association will provide a live orchestra for this period, plus a number of prizes for those in attendance. The annual Alumni Reunion Award and prize will also be given to the Alumnus travelling the greatest distance, at the parade that precedes the football game.

Anniversary reunions will be held for the Classes of 1935 (30th), 1940 (25th), 1945 (20th), 1950 (15th), 1955 (10th), and 1960 (5th). At this time representatives from the Class of 1960 are planning a special reunion that will start on Friday for those members who can be on hand the evening of the 5th. Details will be announced when they have been completed.

Announcements of the Homecoming affair will be mailed to all members of record approximately one month before the reunion date.

Football Camp Scheduled

Head Coach Stan Slaby and Assistant Hunt will greet approximately 50 varsity football hopefuls on Sunday, Sept. 12, when the gridders check in for a week of practice before the regular school year begins. The week-long program includes two practice sessions a day, plus an evening of theory and review.

June Ball Features Jimmy Dorsey Band

Pretty blue colors, flowers, soft lights, the "Surfers" Club below deck, and the wonderful music of Lee Castle and the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra all combined to produce another outstanding June Ball on Friday, June 4th.

Held traditionally in Robison Hall, the main gym floor was transformed into a fairyland of spring colors, where several hundred Cadets and their dates danced from 9 to 1. During the course of the evening the receiving line was observed, and the march of the Cadet Commissioned Officers and their ladies occupied an important place on the dance schedule.

On the lower deck, the Hop Committee outdid itself in introducing a modern, "in" look via the surfer's route. Refreshments were available at Jack Pettit's temporary stand, and Cadets were able to have their photographs taken in color by the yearbook photographer who normally covers these events.

THE JUNE BALL—A general view of the Robison Hall main floor as it looked the night of the June Ball, June 4, when more than 400 persons danced to the music of the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, under the direction of Lee Castle.

THE CLUB—Cadets and their dates relax during the June Ball by visiting the Club on the lower deck of Robison Hall. Wall decorations this year depicted the modern go-go theme. Refreshments were served by volunteer waiters.

40% Of 18th Fund Goal Reached As Drive Continues To Push Toward Goal

Two hundred and forty-three Alumni and Past Parents have joined together to date to give a total of $5011.50 to the 18th annual Alumni Fund. Of this amount, $850 has been given by 21 Past Parents, while 222 former Cadets have contributed $4161.50. The over-all average gift is $20.62, and when compared with last year's results, shows an increase of $1.21 per gift at this point.

With a goal of $12,500 to be reached in order to fulfill the ten objectives that have been adopted for this year's Fund, 40% of the total has already been raised. Francis G. Paul '49, chairman of the Fund, has expressed high hopes that all of the objectives will be met by the Association by Homecoming Day, November 6. "We hope that we can announce that we have gone over the top at the annual business meeting the morning of Homecoming," Mr. Paul said.

The objectives this year include: (1) the maintenance and operation of the Alumni Office, (2) support of the Trident through advertising, (3) Four Alumni Awards to Cadets — Officer, Petty Officer, Honor Company, and Manual-of-Arms Contest Awards, (4) additional books to the Alumni Library Shelf, (5) Headmaster's Discretionary Fund, (6) Alumni Student Aid Fund, (7) equipment for the Physics Laboratory, (8) new press box for the football stands, (9) new sound system for the press box, and (10) the establishment of a Faculty Educational Assistance Fund.

Walter B. Hutchinson '35, president, is asking each and every member of the Association to pitch in and help make this year the most outstanding period of the organization's history. "We've got to work hard and together if we're to keep our memories alive and if we're to help Farragut take its rightful place in academic circles as one of its leaders," he said. "There is little doubt but what our Country needs strong leadership in every walk of life, and we feel confident that our Alma Mater can play a major role in this kind of leadership."

Alumni Secretary Bill Masciangelo '37 revealed that of the gifts received from last year's donors, 56.05% have repeated in the same amount they gave last year, 39.46% have either increased or doubled their amounts, while only 4.49% have given less. "We're off to a fairly good start," he commented, "but we've got a long, hard pull ahead of us if we're to make a success of this year's campaign. It doesn't take much to do the job, but it does take many if we're to do it at all. Let's hope that we'll have a record number of men to give the Farragut bandwagon a big push!"

INTERESTED AUDIENCE—View of large audience of Parents, relatives, and Cadets in Robison Hall during the final exercises of the school year.

INDUCTED—Inducted into the Cum Laude Society at the graduation assembly were Dr. Joseph E. Clayton (Honorary), Andrew Aldi, Richard Bower, Charles McGee, and Eric Siegeltuch. Captains Reinhard and Dodge administer oath and charge.

COLOR GIRL—Miss Ronnie Malinas, sponsored by Cadet T. G. Travis, pins rosette on First Co. guidon to designate that organization's record of achievement in winning the colors. Looking on is Captain N. F. Reinhard, Director of Activities. Holding guidon is Cadet E. Grein.

Annual Party For Music Units Held By Newtons

The annual party given by Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Newton for the combined Cadet music groups was held this year on Saturday, May 29, at their home on Avon Road, Pine Beach.

In addition to the cook-out that was held, the Cadets had an opportunity to go swimming at the local beach, play ping pong, and listen to tapes of previous musical concerts conducted by Mr. Newton.

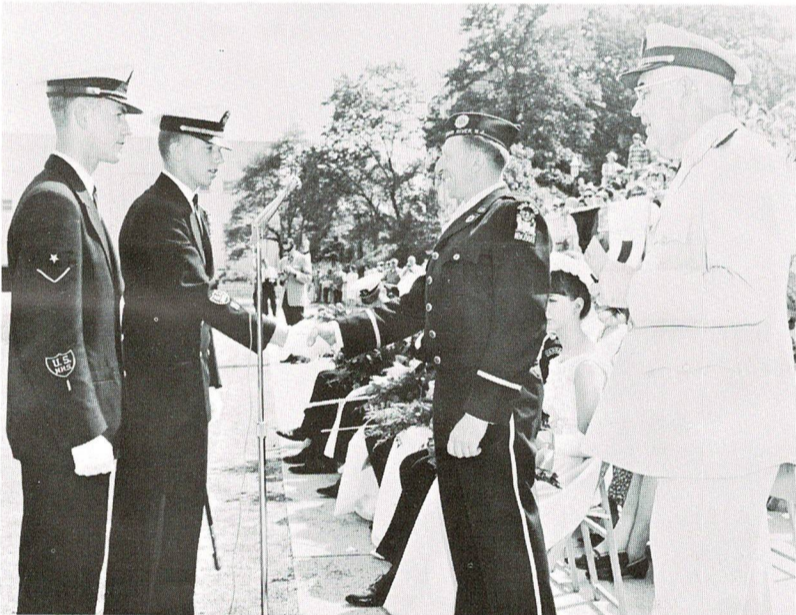

A stereo tape recorder was presented to Mr. Newton by the Cadets in appreciation of all the work that he did throughout the year for the marching band, concert band, glee club, and dance orchestra.

TOP BRASS—Posing for the photographer prior to the start of the 32nd annual commencement program are (l to r) Dr. Andrew Moreland (president of the Ocean County College), Dr. Joseph E. Clayton (Deputy Commissioner of Education for the State of N. J.), Captain Raven O. Dodge (Headmaster), Col. Franklin Berry (Member, Board of Trustees), and Captain W. K. Russell (President, Board of Trustees).

IMPORTANT EVENT — First Clashmen receive their diplomas from commencement speaker, Dr. Clayton, and Captain Dodge calls their names.

SPEAKS UP—Salutatorian Thomas G. Travis addresses large audience at Commencement exercises on June 6th.

AT REST—The schooner Emma C. Berry is part of a very tranquil scene as it lies tied up at one of the Academy docks. The 99-year old smack has attracted considerable attention since it has been at the waterfront.

The Emma C. Berry Story

This year at A.F.A. there was a new sight at the waterfront. The 100 year old "Emma C. Berry" is being restored by Mr. D. O. Newton, head of the Music Department. This fine little smack, owned by F. Slade Dale, has had her share of seagoing experiences. She is the oldest, registered, sailing vessel in the United States, and probably the world. The "Emma C." is a thoroughbred beyond question. The unmistakable signs of her breeding, and the easy sheer and graceful form are still intact after a hard life of fishing and freighting. Skipped by Captain Joe Tilton, she became a legend in Jersey waters around the turn of the century. Mr. Dale first found her at Jonesport, Maine, still active in her trade. She was then, and is now, a sweet sight to anyone who has any sentiment about ships with a nautical "it."

The "Emma" received her first major restoration during 1933 and 1934. Her original dimensions were not changed at all. She is still 47 feet on the deck, 14 feet on the beam and draws 6 feet of water. She is rigged as a topmast schooner with a bowsprit. Her net tonnage is 10.

Mr. Newton, aided by Mr. B. Solloway, Cadets R. Sugermeyer, R. Lyman, and other members of the Faculty and Corps, gave the "Emma" her second major restoration during the Spring months. The hull, which is still in good shape, has been hauled, caulked and painted. She has been given all new rigging and sails. The bowsprit, which was refinished by Mr. Solloway, now has a new net made by Cadet Sugermeyer. Mr. Newton also had a monkey rail built around the stern of the ship.

Below decks, the "Emma" has been completely rejuvenated. The forward cabin now contains cedar bulkheads, accommodations for two, a mahogany galley unit with storage space, and a separate head. The main cabin includes a dining table, accommodations for two, and possibly four, the ship's C.B. communications radio, and many maritime antiques. The Captain's cabin, which is paneled in hand-carved mahogany, contains a reading desk, chart racks, a plotting table, a 'pot belly' stove, accommodations for three and possibly five, and also maritime antiques including a 1759 octant, an 1812 French cutlass, and an antique Very pistol.

UNDER SAIL—The Emma C. presents a beautiful picture under sail during its summer trip up the Hudson River to Troy, N. Y. It was the first major trip for the boat since Mr. Newton started to restore it.

A compressed air bubbling system, which kept the ice away from the boat, allowed Mr. Newton to keep the "Emma" here all winter. This Summer, Captain "Newt" sailed the "Emma C" up the Hudson River to Troy, spending a little over three weeks on her first voyage in years. Mr. Newton also plans to sail her back next year to her home port at Naonk, Conn., after one hundred years of service.

As the last of a distinctive type, the "Emma C. Berry" deserves to reach the pinnacle of rejuvenation, the climax of her romantic history. As a nation, we are forgetting some of the traditions that made it great. One of these, perhaps the greatest, is our background of maritime history. The "Emma C. Berry" is proud of her record and the part she has played in this history. It is hoped that she may some day be part of a maritime museum which is being planned for Barnegat Light, New Jersey, even though she is not yet ready for a final resting place. She has waited patiently for rejuvenation and recognition. This summer she has felt the thrill of life along her keel and liked it. She looks glad showing the world a "clean pair of heels."

TRIDENTS FOR SALE

A limited number of copies of the 1965 Trident are still available for purchase. Persons interested in acquiring copies should send their checks or money orders, made payable to the 1965 Trident, to the Public Relations Office, c/o the Academy. Cost is $10 per copy.

Armed Forces Day Events Feature Band, Drill Team

The Cadet Marching Band, Color Guard, and Drill Team appeared at two Navy installations during the month of May to help observe Armed Forces Day ceremonies.

The first appearance was at the Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, on May 8, followed by a trip to the U.S. Naval Ammunition Depot, Earle on May 15. All units represented the Corps of Cadets at retreat parade at both bases, during which time the Drill Team performed in special drill formations.

Both performances were held in the morning.

CONGRATULATIONS — Captain Robert M. Stauffer, USMC, officer in charge of the Marine Corps Officer Selection Office, Pittsburgh, Pa., is shown congratulating Bill Masciangelo '62 for completing the Senior OCS Course at Quantico, Va., this summer.

ARMED FORCES DAY—The Band and Drill Team are shown moving into positions for their part in the Armed Forces Day program at Lakehurst NAS on May 8. The Band was under the command of Cadet Ronald Dilzer, and the Drill Team was commanded by Cadet George Bell.

PASS IN REVIEW—Captain James W. McConnaughay, USN, C.O. of the U.S. Naval Air Test Facility, Lakehurst, N. J., and Captain Edward F. Kertz, National Air Guard officer, Class of 1951, prepare to review the Corps of Cadets during parade on May 23.

NAS C.O., Alumnus Review Corps At Sunday Parade

When Navy Captain James W. McConnaughay, USN, reviewed the Corps of Cadets at a ceremonial parade on Sunday, May 23, Air Force Captain Edward F. Kertz, Class of 1951, was a member of the reviewing party.

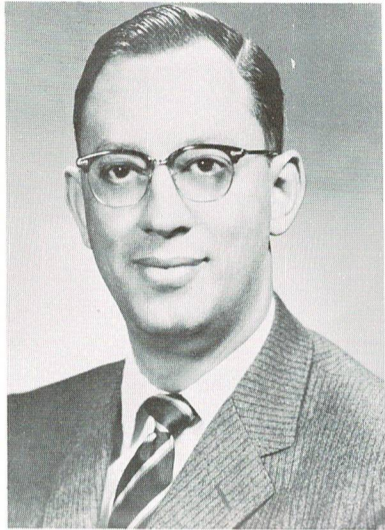

Captain McConnaughay was C.O., U. S. Naval Air Test Facility, Lakehurst NAS, at the time of his visit. Captain Kertz made his appearance as an Alumnus and as a National Air Guard officer.

Both officers were honored at a reception after the parade at the home of Captain and Mrs. Fred N. Klein, in Toms River. Captain Klein is Assistant Director of Naval Science at the Academy.

ALUMNUS WINS POST IN CONTROL SOCIETY

Owen F. Keeler, Jr. '38, Manager, Product Planning Services, Corporate Product Planning Office, Chrysler Corporation, Detroit, has been elected Director-at-Large of the American Society for Quality Control.

Mr. Keeler joined Chrysler in 1955 as a member of the Corporate Organization Staff. Since 1958 he has served on the Corporate Product Planning Staff. His most recent position has been that of Manager-Product Planning Services in the Corporate Domestic Product Planning Office.

Owen Keeler '38

Before coming to Chrysler, he was vice president and director of John I. Thompson & Co., Engineers, in Washington, D. C. He was also an instructor at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J.

Keeler, who was born July 20, 1920, in Bedford, Va., was graduated from the Admiral Farragut Academy and the U. S. Naval Academy. He served as a Navy lieutenant during World War II.

Keeler is past chairman of the Washington, D. C. Section of the ASQC and past chairman of the Automotive Division of the Society. He has served as Director of ASQC, and as a National Vice President of that Society 1963-65.

Keeler and his family live at 337 Merriweather Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan.

While a Cadett at Farragut, Keeler was editor of the Trident, played varsity tennis, shot on the varsity rifle team, and played Inter-Co. basketball. He was a 2 P.O. in the 2nd Company.

Spring Tests Given To Measure Achievement

The Spring Cooperative Tests were held on April 12, 13, and 14, during which time students were tested in each of the subjects they studied during the year. The tests, however, are not used to determine grades.

Each test lasted one hour, with the exception of the English tests, which ran approximately 30 minutes longer. The tests are designed to learn how much a student has achieved since he last took the test in the fall, and the scores are formulated on a percentile basis.

Second and Third classmen took the Kuder test, also, which indicates the interests individuals possess, but in no way indicates aptitude.

BEST DRILLED CADET—Cadet Thomas D. Gamon stands at attention ready to receive Alumni Association's Manual-of-Arms Contest Award after winning competition on May 2. Alumni judges are Major W. B. May '39, Major H. D. Bressler '49, Captain W. Columbus '56, and Captain J. M. Wooton '52.

Assoc. Adds Books To Faculty Library

A total of 105 books was added to the new Faculty Lounge during the past year through the grant of $200 that the Alumni Association gave to the Academy to inaugurate the small library area for the benefit of faculty and staff members. Located in the area that used to be known as Seamanship III classroom and earlier, the Remedial Reading room, the new library is filled with professional books dealing with all kinds of subject matter related to teaching, guidance, and education.

All faculty meetings are held in the Lounge, and there are a number of desks which members may use in connection with their work. Individual mail boxes are also located here, and there is a spirit duplicating machine available to instructors at all times. A special bulletin board and magazine rack completes the facilities that may be used.

Award Received By Allan J. Gussack '61

Allan J. Gussack, Harbor Way, Kings Point, N. Y., a member of the Class of 1961, received a B.S. degree from New York U's School of Commerce last June.

Gussack was graduated in the top 10% of his class, and received the American Marketing Association's Gold Medal Award for superior scholarship and accomplishment in the field of marketing.

Gussack was V.P. of the Triad League Marketing Club of N. Y. U. He is a member of Alpha Delta and Pi Sigma Epsilon.

Easter Services Held Here During Holy Week

Easter Sunday and Good Friday services were held at the Academy this year because of the fact that Spring Leave was granted earlier and the Corps of Cadets was on campus during the Holy Week dates. Rev. A. G. Van Dyke, Academy Chaplain, conducted both services.

The football stands were once again the scene of special Sunrise services on Easter morning for a special program held by the Pine Beach Evangelical Church and the Welis Chapel, Bayville, for the benefit of all persons living in the area to attend. The stands are ideal for this service, for they overlook the river and face the East.

FACULTY JOTTINGS

J. Langford Montgomery, Jr., a member of the Math Dept. during the 1958-59 school year, was named head of the Science Dept. at Kinkaid School, Houston, Texas, for the 1964-65 session. Prior to that he was an instructor in chemistry at Trinity School, New York City, where he completed his graduate studies at New York U.

Dr. Lee B. Roach, who taught English from 1961 through 1964, last year joined the staff at Centenary College for Women, where he taught in the division of humanities.

Robert Landrum (1952-55) is teaching Science in the New Brunswick (N. J.) area these days. He took a trip up the Hudson River aboard the schooner Emma C. Berry, as a member of Mr. Newton's crew. He and Mr. Newton have continued their friendship over the years since he last taught here.

Prof. Hartle '38 Wins French Honor

When the Army sent Robert Hartle '38 to the Philippines during World War II, they didn't know he spoke French and Spanish so they let him take some language courses at the local college.

Now a veteran of three colleges, holder of four degrees, and the chairman of the Romance and Slavic Languages Department at Queens College, he's still studying languages.

Able to speak French as well as he does English, speak Spanish fluently, "get by" in Italian and German, read Latin, and "puzzle out" Greek, he's now learning to "manage" Portuguese.

French, however, is his specialty and it is for work in that language that he received the order of Les Palmes Academiques last April.

The order was founded by Napoleon in 1808 to reward meritorious university service.

An expert on 17th century French theatre, his articles have appeared in many scholarly publications. His best known work is the five volume Index du Vocabulaires du Theatre Classique.

Professor Hartle "just fell into the field of languages." His mother spoke French at home in Madison, N. J., and he started formal instruction in the tongue "comparatively early" in the Madison school system . . . in kindergarten.

He took French at Farragut, and was fortunate when the late Major E. Closson, the headmaster, who later became Hartle's godfather when he became an Episcopalian, was the instructor and Hartle was the only student in the fourth year French class.

He enrolled in Harvard after Farragut but the nippy weather in Boston didn't agree with him so he transferred to the University of Texas where he received a B.A. and M.A. He later went to Princeton where he earned another M.A. and a Ph.D. in French with a minor in Spanish.

He taught at the University of Texas, the University of Oregon, Rutgers University, and Wesleyan University, before coming to Queens.

A prominent Francophile, he goes to France as often as possible, which, for people in his line means during the summers.

"I was pleasantly surprised on my first trip to find that my bookish French served me well."

He doesn't have to go far to speak the language, however. His wife, Huguette, is French-born and his mother-in-law lives with them in Flushing. He has one married daughter, and a son at school in Boston.

As director of the City University's study abroad program, Prof. Hartle had a chance to return to Europe this summer. He has visited Nancy, Rheims, Mount Pellier, Barcelona, and Madrid to pave the way for his students.

Being the chairman of the second largest department at Queens College, and director of the study abroad program, not to mention Portuguese studies, doesn't leave the 43 year-old scholar much time for his hobbies, photography and sailing.

Deaths Of R. M. German '36, J. K. Irvin '39 L. S. Milligan, Jr. '59 Reported By Office

Three members of the Alumni Association have died since the first of the year, it has been disclosed by the Alumni Office. The graduates are from the Classes of 1936, 1939, and 1959.

ROY M. GERMAN '36

Word was received from the widow of Roy M. German '36 that he succumbed suddenly of a heart attack suffered in Jackson, N. J. (approximately 20 miles from Toms River) on January 19th while visiting his daughter, who lives there. Roy had two daughters and one son, and he was field office manager for a highway construction firm in Middlebury, Conn. area where he lived. He served in the Army Transport Corps during World War II, serving as master and first officer of various ships. He had passed all tests in skiing and was a member of the Slalom team, in addition to being a member of the Masonic Lodge and Nara Ski Club of Waterbury, Conn. While at Farragut, he was a member of the Merchant Marine course that was offered to Cadets in the early years of the school's existence.

JAMES K. IRVIN '39

In a letter from the sister-in-law of Cdr. James K. Irvin, USN, Ret. '39, it was disclosed that he died of asphyxiation on March 27th while camping at the Belgian Barracks in Coloene. He had purchased a Volkswagen "bas" that was equipped with a propane gas heater, and the gas escaped and consumed all of the oxygen while he was asleep. After serving twenty years of active duty with the Navy, Jim went to work for the First National Bank of Fleischmans, N. Y., and he was engaged in international financing and investments in the Far East area. A Christmas card from him told of his plans to sail to Capetown, South Africa from Malaysia, drive across Africa and on to Europe, after which he would spend the coming winter in Scandinavia. The father of two daughters, both college students in California, he was buried at sea from aboard the USS SHANGRI LA in accordance with his wishes.

LESTER S. MILLIGAN, JR.

Lester S. Milligan, Jr. '59 died from the results of injuries when he was struck by a car while walking at the submarine base at Groton, Conn. on March 24th. A U.S. Navy electronics technician, Les had reported to the base recently, where he was waiting for assignment to a Polaris submarine. He had completed training at the Idaho Falls Nuclear Reactor Instruction Center. In January of 1962, at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, he was awarded the Armed Forces "American Spirit Medal of Honor," being chosen from 2,000 recruits by a board of commissioned officers. The award was presented for "outstanding qualities of leadership, initiative, loyalty and high example to his comrades in arms." He had attended Northeastern U. for two years prior to his enlistment in the Navy. He was buried with full military honors in St. Charles Cemetery, Farmingdale, L. I., N. Y.

Ed Cole '57 Serving On Minesweeper

LTJG Edward F. Cole, Jr. On active duty with the Navy is this former Cadet who is aspiring to make a career for himself in the armed forces of the Nation.

After graduating from Farragut in 1957, he went on to Tufts U., where he earned an A.B. degree and a commission through the NROTC program. Three stints at the Fleet Gunnery School, Destroyer Engineer Officer's School, and the Surface Mine Welfare School have rounded out his service education to date. Ed has served aboard the USS HARRY HUBBARD (DD748) for two years as Gunnery and Engineer Officer, and at the present time is Executive Officer of the USS FIDELITY (MS0443). While aboard the Hubbard, he earned a Navy Unit Commendation in support of operations in the Gulf of Tonkin, and the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal with Bronze Star, in lieu of second award, for service at Quemoy and Matsu Islands, and in Vietnam.

Ed is married to the former Paula Ruder, and they have two daughters, 3 and 2 years of age. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega, and of the Army & Navy Club of Wash., D. C.

unit at Elgin AFB, Fla. for training and duty as a wiring specialist. He attended Wagner College before entering the service.

BILL MASCIANGELO graduated from the Marine Corps' Senior PLC program at Quantico, Va., on July 23rd, and will receive his commission as a 2nd LT when he finishes his studies at St. Francis College next June. He held the position of Adjutant at the final parade as the unit was reviewed by two-star and three-star Marine general officers. He is a pledge master for Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at St. Francis.

MARK LEWIS and Adrienne Fischman of Plainfield, N. J. figured it was cheaper for two to live together and pledged their wedding vows on June 26th. Mark has been attending Boston U., and he and his new wife will continue their studies together at Monmouth College. They are now living in Lakewood.

Last April ED RUNYON and Pamela Youngs announced their engagement. Ed is in business with his father.

PAUL BLACK completed his freshman year at Marietta College, where he is majoring in biology and is a member of the Epsilon Pi Chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity.

BOB PELIO made quite a name for himself at Syracuse U. this past year, placing on the Dean's List both semesters with an average of "B" or better.

ARTIE TUTELA was accepted as a member by the Olympic Committee as a result of his outstanding ability as an athlete and for his sportsmanship in wrestling at the U. of Notre Dame.

ATTENTION ALL ALUMNI! One of the best things you can do is to keep your Alumni Office notified of your activities at all times. These items are welcome news and will be published in future editions of the Capstan. Also it enables the Office to maintain your records accurately and currently.

SENIOR CELEBS

George E. Bell

Ted mustered into the First Company in September of 1961. Last year, he served as a Third Class Petty Officer. This year he returned as the Battalion Chief Petty Officer, but was later promoted to staff Ensign. It is interesting to note that Ted lives in Bonn, Germany. Although he is a native American, his father is affiliated with Time Magazine.

Ted has a wide range of extra-curricular activities. He was co-captain of the wrestling team this year, and has been a member of the squad for the past four years. He is assistant Editor-in-chief of the Trident and news editor of the "Capstan." He was an active member of the Booster, Weightlifting, Music and Art, and Monogram Clubs. Finally, to wrap up his many activities, he was the Drill Team commander.

Upon graduation he hopes to go to either Georgetown or Syracuse to study journalism and political science.

Ted lists his favorites as "export" lines and canoe trips through U. S. History. His pet peeves were Sam's cooking and special programs. He also fostered a secret love for "sick bay scales."

Ted's advice to underclassmen was, "Begin to pattern life while here at Farragut—later it will be too late to make changes."

Richard Bower

Rich entered Farragut and the First Company in September 1961. In his sophomore year he attained the rank of Third Class Petty Officer. Last year he was the Battalion Executive Officer, holding the rank of Lieutenant and served as Acting Battalion Commander during the latter part of the school year.

Rich, who presently lives in the Bronx of New York City, and formerly of Baltimore, is a whirlwind of activities. He is vice-president of both the Dramatics and Chapel Clubs. He is also a member of the Monogram and Math Clubs. In addition, Rich is a member of the varsity wrestling team. Another outstanding accomplishment of Rich is that as a junior he won the Daughters of the American Revolution award for the highest proficiency in Seamanship.

"Combat" plans to study medicine upon graduation. In order to realize this goal he has applied to Duke, College of William and Mary, University of North Carolina, and Cornell University.

Rich lists his favorites as Gabrielle, parents, leave, Park Terrace West and C.B.A. His pet peeves are new boys trying to pull "rackets."

Rich's advice to underclassmen was, "Be an individualist. Don't be afraid to stand by your convictions. It may be hard, but in the long run you will be better off."

Ronald Dilzer

Ron entered Farragut in September 1961. He is an avid musician and consequently has been a member of the Band during his A.F.A. career. He presently lives in Pine Beach, but is formerly of Somerville, N. J. Last year, Ron was the Band Company chief petty officer and this year was the Band commander, holding the rank of LTJG.

Ron is quite an athlete being a member of both the varsity football and baseball teams. To further round out his list of activities, Ron was a member of the Dance Band, where he played lead saxophone, and the Monogram and Chapel Clubs. During the past two years Ron has played many difficult and excellent solos during the band concerts to the enjoyment of the Corps. When not engaged in some activity or studying, Ron says he likes to ponder over the forty-three land and water activities. Ron is also the Secretary-Historian of the Senior Class.

Upon graduation, Ron hopes to attend a Western New England college to study mechanical engineering.

Ron lists his favorites as Physical Science double periods, "Pizza Town," Burp, and bones.

His advice to underclassmen is, "A shine on your shoes doesn't always reflect your whole person."

James Meagher

Jim mustered into the First Company in September, 1961. Since then he has made his life here a success story. Last year he was a Third Class Petty Officer, and this year he was the executive officer of the First.

"Jungle Jim" is quite an athlete. During the Fall he was a member of the varsity football team. When there was snow on the football field he was busy galloping about the basketball court. And in the Spring, Jim can be seen hurling the discus far afield.

Jim's activities are in no way limited to an athletic vein, for he is a prominent member of many important campus activities. He is a member of the Dramatics, Weightlifting, Capstan, Trident, Hop Committee, and Math Clubs.

After Jim graduated this June, he plans to attend Purdue to study medicine. He has promised the members of the Senior Class free medical care for all the injuries suffered picking up hoagies, a cause he is in deep sympathy with.

When Jim isn't studying or participating in some activity, you can find him lying on his bed eating a meatball sandwich telling his roommate to turn the light out and go to bed.

Jungle's advice to underclassmen is, "Have a good time while you can, you're only young once."
